Cost Squeeze Perils Tenants Of Marin City

Rentals May Price Units Out Of Residents' Reach

A cost squeeze threatens to price Marin City redevelopment project units out of the reach of many of those for whom they are intended.

Redeveloper James Scheuer will fly to Marin from New York next week for an emergency meeting with the county redevelopment agency on costs which Rep. Clement W. Miller today blamed to excessive financing charges.

OUT OF REACH

"Unless some way can be found to eliminate some of these special charges . . . the housing which the private builders can supply in Marin City is going to be totally outside of the reach of the prospective tenants and owners in Marin City," declared Miller in a letter.

"In spite of every effort, the builders are unable to get their cost estimates much below monthly rentals which would amount to approximately $137," Miller wrote.

Bert Klahn, executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency, took issue with this figure. He said preliminary rental schedules worked out with Scheuer call for cooperative apartments to rent at $115 per month for two-bedroom units and $125 for three-bedroom units. Scheuer at next week's meeting will "try to shave that a little," Klahn reported.

STEEP ADVANCE

This still represents a steep advance over federally subsidized apartments in Marin City's low-rent units, which are now completed and mostly occupied. Top rent there is $84 per month for a four-bedroom unit. The federal government pays the difference between rent revenue and actual cost of building and maintaining the apartment houses.

Scheuer is to build apartments and single family units on land already prepared at federal expense, for families whose income exceeds $5,200 per year—the maximum allowable for those in the low-rent units.

Cooperative apartments are now planned, which will reduce financing charges somewhat. Klahn, however, said he agreed with Congressman Miller that

N. MARIN ACCEPTS WATER LINE BID

$968,780 Pipeline Job May Bring Supply From Sonoma To Novato By Dec. 1

Directors of the North Marin Water District last night accepted a $968,780 low bid for construction of an 11-mile water line which they hope will bring Russian River water to Novato by Dec. 1.

Beasley Engineering Co. of Emeryville is expected to start construction in late May or early June on the 30-inch pipeline. The company was low among 10 bidders for the work. District engineers had estimated the cost of the line at $1,000,735.

Highest bidder was Guy F. Atkinson Co. of south San Francisco at $1,223,842.

Jerome Gilbert, manager and chief engineer of the district, termed the Beasely firm "good" and noted that directors had been well satisfied with work previously done by the firm for the North Marin district.

The 10 miles of pipe will run from the Petaluma city limites, where construction is expected to start, and follow Highway 101 to Novato.

North of the city, the line will cross under the highway and the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks, and follow the tracks to the old railroad station (now the city police station) where the pipeline will end.

The line will connect to the present system at Olive Avenue, with the end near the railroad station planned for future extension some two miles south.

A telemeter cable also will be laid with the water line to make possible remote control of the North Marin district's pump station in Petaluma, to be constructed in eight to 10 years. Control would be from the district offices in Novato.

The district now is served by Stafford Lake on the outskirts of the city. Lake level has steadily dropped through the years, as population has increased. There now are 1,500 acre-feet of water in the lake;

Fusselman Proposes Program Of Housing

Marin County Supervisors' Chairman William D. Fusselman proposed a new scheme yesterday to solve part of the county hospital problem at Uncle Sam's expense, as part of a presidential program to make jobs. A federal survey has been approved, he said.

Fusselman said that under the Federal Public Housing Authority, ambulatory patients and elderly persons in need of nursing care might be accommodated in "well constructed, good-looking, one-story buildings with one, two or three-bedroom apartments" to be built in Lucas Valley with federal funds.

"In conjunction with this sort of housing," said Fusselman, "It would only be necessary for the county to construct a building to contain the medical facilities, such as operating rooms or emergency treatment rooms.

PRESENT BUILDING

"As a matter of fact, there is every likelihood that the present structure could be used for this purpose. The general hazard now existing in that building would disappear by the use of the new federal construction."

Fusselman said he had conferred with Bert Klahn, executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority, "as to the possibilities which might fit our requirements here."

Klahn, said Fusselman, arranged to have a member of the Federal Public Housing Authority staff explore the problem. As result, he went on, "it is possible at this time to present preliminary picture of the situation."

OTHER PLACES

Bedroom apartments could be built "for people with an income of $3,700 or lower, aged 65 years or over for men and 62 years or over for women, or 50 or over for either men or women who are incapacitated for work," Fusselman reported.

"Depending on the cost of construction," he went on, "which would include the price of the land, rentals could be in

FORECAST SAYS RAIN TO STAY OVER WEEKEND

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— A mild storm is expected to bring continued occasional rain to the Bay Area and Northern California tonight, extending through the weekend.

The Feather Bureau forecast snow for the mountains with drizzles elsewhere in the area.

The chance of rain will be 60 per cent tonight and 70 per cent tomorrow, the Weather Man said.

U.S. Accuses Marinite In Bond Mystery

Henry Joseph Renaldo, 45, Corte Madera gardener, was indicted by a federal grand jury today for interstate transportation of bonds stolen from an Illinois home where Renaldo worked as gardener in 1954.

Renaldo, who lives at 303 Willow Avenue, is accused of bringing to San Francisco, bonds worth more than $5,000 which were stolen and taken by fraud.

Renaldo and his wife Lucille, 33, have already been named in a Marin Superior Court suit by a Chicago bank, which is trustee of the estate of the late John W. Banghart, for whom the Renaldos worked in Skokie, Ill. Renaldo told authorities he had found about $40,000 in bonds in the woods outside the Banghart home.

At the time of the bond theft in Illinois, Banghart reported about $125,000 worth missing from his home.

The bonds in Renaldo's possession came to light when Renaldo tried to cash them at Dean Witter's in San Francisco.

E. Bay Woman May Have Seen Slaying Victim

A woman acquaintance of Jerry Keith Sangster, Mount Tamalpais murder victim, may have seen the man alive in Oakland as late as Thursday or Friday of last week, Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos disclosed today.

Sheriff's inspectors were checking on reports that the woman, on her way to a bank, had seen 25-year-old Sangster on an Oakland street.

Coroner Frank J. Keaton estimated that Sangster, whose nude body was uncovered near Devil's Gulch Road off Bolinas-Fairfax Road last Sunday, may have died Thursday or Friday of last week. A bullet, somewhere in size between a .22 and .38 caliber, tore though the back of his neck and out his right forehead. Powder burns indicated he was shot at close range.

If the Oakland woman did see Sangster alive late last week the sheriff indicated he would concentrate in that area in an attempt to pick up the man's trail.

Sheriff's Inspectors Marco Melovich and Richard V. Argento were also checking out

NO MISSILES ANSWER

Kennedy Declares U.S. In For Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy said today he sincerely believes America's ability to maintain its position in the world will be severely tested in the next four years.

That was his reply to a news conference question as to whether he has been painting the U. S. picture blacker than it is "for shock purposes."

And Kennedy insisted his administration has not yet reached any firm conclusion as to the relative position of this country and Russia in missile strength.

There were published reports the last two days that Pentagon officials believe the so-called "missile gap" versus Russia did not exist—in short, that this country was as strong in missiles as the Soviets.

The New York Herald Tribune said today the stories to this effect were based on a background briefing held by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Kennedy said he had talked with McNamara and other defense officials, and that the secretary "stated that no study had been concluded in the Defense Department which would lead to any conclusion at this time as to whether there is a missile gap or not."

The president added that it is hoped a preliminary study could be completed by Feb. 20. He said he hopes this country is "completely secure" as to the missile situation, but the answer is not yet clear.

NOT TELEVISED

Republicans in Congress had chortled over the reports that there was no genuine missile gap.

Some of them had suggested that perhaps other "gaps" which Kennedy professed to see didn't really exist.

It was against this background that a newsman asked whether Kennedy had been seeking to use "shock tactics."

This third presidential news conference for Kennedy, unlike the two earlier ones, was not televised. It drew 297 newsmen to the State Department Auditorium and brought questions ranging over a wide field.

NATO POLICY

Among the subjects touched on in announcements and questions and answers:

Prime Minister John F. Diefenbaker of Canada is coming to Washington Feb. 20 to discuss matters of mutual interest.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk is making a study of policy in relation to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and will have advisory help from Dean Acheson, secretary of state in the Truman administration, among others.

The Welfare Department is setting up a child health center to deal with the special health problems of children. (Other stories on Kennedy's press conference are on page 11.)

Sausalito Fire Causes $1,000 Ship Damage

Coast Guardsmen and Sausalito firemen quelled a blaze in the converted Navy subchaser White Plume at the foot of Sausalito's Napa Street pier late yesterday, holding damage to about $1,000.

Owner Stanley Stock, who helped battle the blaze, made the damage estimate. He and his crew are converting the ship for use in Caribbean charter service.

Stock said the fire started from sparks from a worker's blow torch igniting cork lining of a refrigerator compartment.

Coast Guardsmen under command of Lt. (j.g.) T. P. Nolan, brought three rescue boats alongside the White Plume. Twenty-three Coast Guardsmen fought the fire, together with 20 firemen and volunteers from the Sausalito Fire Department.

Fire Chief Mathew J. (Matts) Perry said fire trucks could not get all the way down the long pier because of a derrick. His men fought with smoke masks and portable equipment as did the Coast Guardsmen.

"Smoke inside the ship was as thick as water," Stock said.

The fire, which started at 4:45 p.m., was out at about 9 p.m. There were no injuries.

Stock, who lives on the ship with his wife, Maria, and three sons, Alex, 4, Stanley, 3 and Marc six months, is a salesman for Coast Equipment Co. in San Francisco.

New Move On To Abolish Death Penalty

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A new move to abolish the death penalty in California was launched in the Assembly today.

Assemblyman John A. O'Connell (D-San Francisco) and 14 co-authors proposed instead a maximum sentence of life imprisonment without possibility of parole.

Already pending in the legislature, which refused to abolish the gas chamber in 1959 and 1960, is a bill calling for a four-year moratorium on executions.

O'Connell said his bill may have as much chance of passage as the moratorium measure. The bill also would prohibit giving minors under 18 the maximum sentence of life without parole.

Voters Pass Fairfax School Tax Increase

An 80-cent increase in the Fairfax Elementary School District general purpose tax was approved by voters yesterday by a majority of 167 votes.

The vote was: Yes 986, no 652.

It was the fifth time in three years that a tax increase had been brought before the voters. Four such proposals were defeated, including one for an 80-cent hike last November which lost by only 17 votes.

The increase boosts indefinitely the general purpose tax rate from $1.25 to $2.05 per $100 assessed valuation. The total tax rate, including retirement funds, community services, social security, county school service fund, state loan repayment and bond retirement, was $1.88 last year. If items not included in the general rate remain unchanged, it could go to $2.68.

Forty-five absentee ballots will be counted at the county superintendent of school's office on Tuesday.

The tax increase required only a simple majority to pass.

All three polls approved the tax increase. The vote at Manor School was 376 for to 174 against, at Central School 268 to 251, and at Deer Park School 342 to 227.

Supt. Homer Sisk said the $65,000 which will be raised by the tax increase next year will be used for long-overdue projects. Expenditures in the district for the past two years have been exceeding income by about $20,000 per year.

He said $20,000 would be used to balance the current budget; $12,000 for teachers' salaries and the expected addition of a new principal in about two years; $4,000 for an adequate maintenance program; $2,000 to cover increased costs of non-instructional supplies and services; $1,000 for instructional supplies; $5,400 for a vocal and instrumental music teacher; $5,400 for an upper class (seventh and eighth grade) teacher for special subjects in about two years; $8,000 a year for two years to replenish depleted reserves, and $4,000 a year for three years to restore bus transportation.

The $1.25 general purpose tax limit had been in effect in Fairfax since 1954. A proposed 80-cent hike was defeated last November by 17 votes and a proposed 75-cent increase was turned down last March by 109 votes. In October, 1959, the same proposal went down by 137 votes. In May, 1958, Fairfax voters turned down a 15-cent tax hike by 97 votes.

Marin Physician Quits Medic Unit Rather Than Sign Loyalty Oath

One of Marin County Medical Society's seven representatives in the California Medical Assn.'s house of delegates has resigned rather than sign the association loyalty oath.

Dr. J. L. Hurlbut, a general practitioner who lives in Larkspur and has his office in Kentfield, has been replaced as an alternate member of the House of Delegates by Dr. John McGee, Ross surgeon, it was announced today by Dr. Russell Klein, president of the county society.

Dr. Hulbut, elected in December as one of the three House of Delegates alternates from Marin, resigned with a letter in which he stated:

"I have already expressed my sentiments to the board in regard to the signature of the loyalty oath as a qualification to serve as an alternate delegate to the California Medical Assn., and I would like to make it clear that I have not changed my oinion in this matter . . .

"I would like to point out that in addition to affirming my loyalty, I am required to testify that I am not and have not been a member of some 250 organizations held to be subversive by the Department of Justice . . .

"It hardly seems necessary for me to take an oath denying something of which I have never been accused. This requirement ignores what I feel to be a fundamental law of justice and in so doing makes subtle but certain inroads into what I hold to be cherished and vital fabric of our national life. You will recall that one of our most revered documents states that we hold certain truths to be self evident. This is one of them. As certainly as we ignore this truth, we are sacrificing something that we can ill afford to lose at this time when much we hold dear is being challenged. I feel that it is indeed a sign of impending paresis if we are no longer able to trust the liberties that we have so long enjoyed."

Not included on the long list of organizations found to be subversive by the U. S. Department of Justice are the American Academy of General Practice, San Francisco Trudeau Society, American Society of Clinical Hypnosis and San Francisco Society of Clinical Hypnosis, of all of which Dr. Hurlbut is a member.

The loyalty oath which he challenged is to be discussed at the house of delegates' session April 29-May 3 in Los Angeles, at which Dr. Hurlbut will not be present. A resolution to abandon it was introduced by San Francisco delegates last year, but was tabled.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—One Phoenix union local has developed its own anti-recession program.

About 100 members of Tile Setters Local 4 bought a gold mine near Bumblebee, about 50 miles north of here. About 40 of them are unemployed.

Big Chrysler Suit

DETROIT (UPI) — Ousted Chrysler Corp. president William C. Newberg today filed a $5,250,000 damage suit against Chrysler president and board chairman L. L. Colbert.

The suit charged that Colbert conspired with other Chrysler officials falsely to picture Newberg as a dishonest executive and "create an aura of righteousness" about himself.

Newberg earlier had filed suit seeking to cancel an agreement under which he agreed to repay Chrysler $455,000 in profits he made from interests in outside firms that sold goods to Chrysler.

More Snow Falls

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

More snow piled atop white-carpeted areas in central eastern and southern sections of the nation today but the storms didn't appear to pack the punch of last week's wintry blockbusters.

One storm dumped nearly a foot of snow in northwest Arkansas, as it spread into sections of Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas and Oklahoma. But it tapered off during the night and only light snow fell this morning in parts of Kansas and northeast Oklahoma.

REVENGE?—Sarah Grayson, a University of California coed at Berkeley, says she was marked for murder by convicted Mississippi murderer Jon Mattox. Mattox was accused of offering two jailmates money to do away with Miss Grayson, who said he told her he planned to kill a neighbor with whom he was having an affair. Miss Grayson, who then lived in Mississippi, thought it an idle threat, but later, in January, 1960, Mattox killed Mrs. Gene Cain Tate, a former beauty queen, with a coat hanger. Miss Grayson said Mattox hired jailmates to kill her when she was home last Christmas. (AP Wirephoto)

Crash Hurts Two Women

A Tiburon woman nurse swung her sedan too wide in rounding a Tiburon Boulevard curve yesterday and struck a Belvedere housewife's car head-on, with injuries to both drivers.

Mrs. Ruth Thorpe Anderson, 72, of the Hilarita Housing in Tiburon, went into the wrong lane in rounding a curve 100 feet east of the railroad trestle at 11:25 a.m., witnesses told the California Highway Patrol. Her car collided with the westbound auto of Mrs. Alejandra Macondray Pedley, 60, of 416 Golden Gate Avenue, Belvedere.

Mrs. Anderson complained of pain in stomach and ribs but said she would seek her own medical attention. Mrs. Pedley was treated at Ross General Hospital for cuts of the nose, left eye and lip. She was in satisfactory condition today.

Castro Regime Blames Priests For Bombings

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's regime kept up its bitter anti-clerical campaign last night with a charge by Defense Minister Raul Castro that Roman Catholic priests are active in bomb plots against the government.

The prime minister's younger brother told a crowd of several thousand roaring students one priest was caught planting a bomb at a munitions depot and another was arrested trying to join invaders from the Dominican Republic.

STRONG ATTACK

It was one of the strongest attacks on the clergy since the Castros came to power, and once more the target was Spanish-born priests, the majority of the clergy in Cuba. The Castro regime claims they act on the orders of Spanish dictator Francisco Franco.

Despite his charges, Raul left the impression the Communist-dominated regime plans no immediate action against the church. He called for patience in the face of "anti-national" activities by the priests and said the regime always will insure religious freedom.

Shortly after the rally, a bomb explosion was heard in suburban Miramar. It was the 10th in the last three nights.

SURPRISE APPEARANCE

Raul's appearance in Havana was a surprise in view of reports the government has gathered the biggest concentration of armed forces in the nation's history to attack rebel strongholds in south-central Cuba's mountains.

An estimated 60,000 Castro men reportedly have sealed off 1,600 to 4,000 insurgents in the Escambray Mountains of Las Villas Province, 185 miles southeast of Havana. All civilian movement for 50 miles around the mountains has been restricted.

Spy Suspect's Story Told By Detective

LONDON (AP) — A Scotland Yard detective testified today a trusted British civil servant exclaimed "I have been a bloody fool" when he was caught slipping Royal Navy secrets to a Soviet agent posing as a U.S. naval attache.

Detective Supt. George Smith told a magistrate that Harry F. Houghton, 55, a clerical officer in the British navy's underwater weapons department, later confessed to his part in the spy ring in an effort to clear his fiancee, because he had "dragged her into this mess."

BOTH ARRESTED

Houghton was arrested with his fiancee, Miss Ethel Gee, 46, who worked with him at the secret naval research station in Portland, as they kept a rendezvous in the heart of London with Gordon A. Lonsdale, 37.

The government charges that Lonsdale was a Soviet agent who carried a forged Canadian passport.

Detective Smith said Houghton told him that he persuaded Miss Gee to let him have a number of secret documents to be copied for Lonsdale, who had introduced himself as "Cmdr. Alexander Johnson," of the U.S. Embassy in London.

SEIZED THREE

Smith testified and he and fellow detectives seized the three on Jan. 7 on a London street after watching Miss Gee hand Lonsdale a shopping basket holding two parcels.

The parcels, Smith said, contained four pamphlets relating underwater weapons tests and a can packed with film of 212 pages from the highly secret Royal Navy book "Particulars of War Vessels," supposedly accessible only to trusted navy men and civil servants.

Accused with the two navy workers and Lonsdale are Peter Kroger, 50, a bookseller, and his wife, Helen, 47, who lived in suburban Ruislip—not far from the Third U.S. Air Force headquarters. The hearing now being held is to determine whether the five shall be tried for espionage.

HAD RADIO

Attorney General Sir Reginald Manningham-Buller told the magistrate yesterday the Krogers' modest cottage was equipped with a powerful radio transmitter and receiver which they used to keep in touch with a spymaster in Moscow.

The shortwave radio transmitter was found in a compartment beneath the kitchen floor.

The government said it also found in the cottage:

Tiny documentary films called microdots—documents reduced on film to a dot no bigger than the period on a typewriter.

A powerful microscope suitable for reading microdot messages.

Bill Would Limit Smut Materials

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Assemblyman Louis Francis (R-San Mateo) yesterday introduced five bills he says are designed to keep pornographic literature out of the hands of teen-agers.

The bills prohibit exhibition of such material, increases penalties for furnishing smut to minors, outlaws the use of minors in distributing smut, forbids a person from receiving smut for resale and sets up injunctions to stop distribution of obscene material.

Medical Service To Youths Rise

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Per capita costs for medical service to wards of the California Youth Authority rose from $215 in 1955 to $245 in 1960.

During the same period, average population at authority institutions rose from 2,385 to 3,116.

Civil Suits Loom In Anti-Trust Case

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The government breakup of the giant conspiracy in the two-billion-dollar-a-year heavy electrical equipment industry, halting illegal price fixing and bid rigging, may be followed by many civil suits.

Customers may seek to recover thousands of dollars, perhaps millions in alleged overpayments. Such action could be in the courts for years. The suing customer must prove he was damaged by price-fixing or bid-rigging. This is not easy, attorneys said.

Industry sources, meantime, said equipment prices remain virtually unchanged.

The intensive federal investigation that began 18 months ago ended yesterday as U.S. Dist. Judge J. Cullen Ganey finished sentencing 29 companies and 44 of their top executives.

It was a two-day job in Ganey's courtroom where he imposed total fines of $1,924,500 and 30-day jail terms for seven men.

A 45th individual, too ill to appear, will be sentenced later.

There were 20 indictments in all, brought in by four separate grand juries. The 14 remaining were disposed of yesterday, after Monday's five-hour session.

All the indictments accused the defendants of fixing prices, maintaining them at high and artificial levels and restraining, suppressing and eliminating competition.

The defendants either pleaded guilty or no defense. The judge said both were an equal admission of the charges.

Company fines, totaling $1,787,000, must be paid within 10 days. Individuals, assessed $137,500, must pay within 20 days.

The seven jailed will serve their prison terms, starting next Monday, in the Montgomery County Prison at nearby Norristown, Pa.

The industry supplies most of the equipment for transmission, generation and distribution of electric power to operate television sets and toasters in virtually every American home.

The convicted companies did more than over eight billion dollars gross sales during the 1955-59 indictment periods.

San Francisco's city attorney, Dion R. Holm, said cities across the nation may join in suing the firms for refunds. He estimated San Francisco has spent about six million dollars for heavy equipment with General Electric, Westinghouse and Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co.

U.S., RUSS CAN'T AGREE

Congo Agreement Prospects Are Dim

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Lack of Soviet-U. S. agreement dimmed prospects today for any decisive U.N. Security Council action to ease the crisis in the Congo.

Despite the threat of spreading civil war in the chaotic new African nation, it appeared that the current council debate would wind up in another deadlock.

The council adjourned last night, with its next meetings to be held either Friday or next Monday. Members will confer privately, seeking some solution.

Hope for effective council action had been stirred by word that the United States was consulting privately with the Soviet Union and other council members in an effort to reach agreement on an overall U.N. Congo policy.

Adlai E. Stevenson, chief U. S. delegate, said he was hopeful but not at all confident about eventual U. S.-Soviet agreement. He made the statement after a two-hour private meeting Monday night with Valerian A. Zorin, head of the Soviet U.N. delegation.

Zorin commented that he did not see any indication that the United States was seriously changing its position on the Congo. A spokesman for the Soviet delegation said the new Kennedy administration "has not brought a new approach."

Stevenson in his talks with the Soviets and other delegates suggested a package policy to include barring of outside interference in the Congo, neutralizing the Congolese army, reconvening of the Congo Parliament, setting up a government with a broader basis, and freeing of political prisoners, including deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Apparently this did not satisfy the Soviet Union, which has castigated Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold for his policies in the Congo and called for council condemnation of Belgium as an aggressor in the Congo. Inclusion of such demands in any council resolution would make it unacceptable to the Western powers.

New Orleans' Mardi Gras Not So Bright

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The usually gay New Orleans Mardi Gras wore a sad mask today, its first night parade turned into a pitiful flop.

There was no music because no one made arrangements for bands. There was no light because the young Negro flambeaux carriers who bear fire torches and bright sparklers went on strike for higher pay. There was only a sparse crowd in the chilly weather. And there were only eight floats instead of 12 because of financial difficulties.

Worse yet, there may be more trouble tonight. The Knights of Babylon, scheduled to march in style after darkness closes in on the city that care once forgot, also face a strike by the flambeaux carriers.

Last night's parade by the Krewe of Gemini, a carnival club, started more than an hour late, and turned out to be the quietest and shortest in carnival history.

Parade designer Blaine Kern said "financial considerations" were to blame for the parade's having only eight floats instead of a scheduled dozen. Kern indicated he wouldn't have allowed any floats to leave his shop if Mayor deLesseps Morrison had not intervened in the Krewe's behalf.

Morrison who feels the city has "gotten a black eye" because of racial tensions since two schools were integrated last November, appealed to the all-Negro Zulu Aid and Pleasure Society to stage its popular Fat Tuesday parade. The Zulus had been asked by several Negro groups to join a Negro boycott of Mardi Gras, but yielded to Morrison's plea.

Star Picher of Belvedere will lead the group along the east side of Tomales Bay.

Main Breaks In St. Louis, Homes Flooded

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—A huge water main broke at 4:30 a.m. today and sent tons of icy water cascading down north St. Louis streets, flooding hundreds of homes and overturning cars.

A number of persons were taken from their homes by boat. Authorities said there was no known loss of life. At least nine persons, most of them suffering from exposure and shock, were taken to hospitals.

Natural gas service was affected and many householders were without heat in 20-degree cold.

Streets on the fringe area of the flooded sections quickly turned to sheets of ice.

The sudden rupture in the main, one of the largest in St. Louis, sent up a geyser of water beneath a large water tower on a knoll.

Water pressure failed over a wide area. There was no water in some sections of downtown St. Louis, three miles away.

Search Of Corn Yields Lost Boy

ATWOOD, Colo. (AP)—There's a difference between hunting missing persons in Colorado's mountains and on the plains.

When Allen South disappeared, Mrs. Earl South, his mother, notified Undersheriff Mel Honebein. A search party of 50 volunteers was organized. Each searcher was assigned to three rows of corn.

Tony Gonzales found little Allen . . . sitting in a corn row a quarter of a mile from home.

CHIHUAHUA ON A CHOO-CHOO

Cal Williams of Valparaiso, Ind., has a little talk with Squeaky, a Chihuahua who got into his baggage by mistake and rode 225 miles in a closed suitcase from Valparaiso to Rock Island, Ill. The dog was missed by Mrs. Williams, who telephoned ahead to warn her husband the dog might have gotten in the suitcase by mistake. The dog greeted his master spryly and unharmed. (AP Wirephoto)

Negro Gains Approval For Top Housing Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Banking Committee on an 11-4 vote today approved Robert C. Weaver, New York Negro, to be the government's housing administrator.

The committee acted within minutes after closing public hearings on President John F. Kennedy's choice of the 53-year-old Weaver for the highest job a Negro has ever held in the government.

The committee action sends the nomination on to the Senate, where it could encounter some debate and opposition. But eventual Senate approval seems certain.

The hearing was delayed yesterday until Kennedy sent word to Capitol Hill that he had reviewed Weaver's loyalty file. Weaver later denied membership in several organizations alleged to have Communist links.

Weaver, 53, now is vice chairman of the New York City Housing and Redevelopment Board.

He was quizzed all yesterday afternoon about his loyalty, his views on whether federal housing programs should be used to enforce residential integration, and his experiences in previous housing posts.

Committee Chairman A. Willis Robertson (D-Va.), had declined to begin the hearing until Kennedy had sent a personal letter regarding Weaver's loyalty. The committee chairman said he had received a number of allegations that the New Yorker had been affiliated with some subversive organizations.

Kennedy wrote he had "fully reviewed and evaluated" a Federal Bureau of Investigation report on Weaver. He added his complete confidence the New Yorker would do "outstanding service."

Sen. William A. Blakley (D-Tex.), later questioned Weaver about alleged associations with Communist front organizations. But supporters of the nominee dismissed the allegations as smears and asserted he had answered them fully.

Greater concern, however, was expressed by some members about the philosophy Weaver would bring to the federal post.

These senators noted that the New Yorker long had advocated residential integration. They expressed the fear he might try to use federal housing programs to enforce these views.

Weaver said he did indeed believe in "open occupancy" for all races in housing. He declared that he felt strongly federal financing aids should not be used to further racial discrimination.

Old Hangtown Jail May Be Up For Grabs

Anybody want a jail?

Roger J. Darrow, president of the Marin Title Guaranty Co., has one and will let it go cheap.

He can't lose, for he got it free.

What he has is "the old Hangtown jail" in what is now Placerville, El Dorado County. It's a fine solid fieldstone structure likely to last forever, for more reasons than one.

One reason is that a covenant with the city provides that it is not to be demolished because of its historical value.

Darrow, who got it "thrown in" with a brick building on Main Street bought from Pacific Gas and Electric Co., hardly realized at the time that what he thought was an ex-jail is now a hot potato.

He said today that he bought the brick structure for $35,000 in order to tear it down and rebuild quarters for Tahoe Title Guarantee Co., operating in Auburn and Placerville. This project is in an architect's hands.

The stone building next door, given as part of the deal, almost escaped attention initially. It is occupied by the Pioneer Book Store, which pays a small rental, against which there are taxes to be paid.

"That agreement that it can't be demolished is a sticker," said Darrow. "Actually the building has undoubted historical value, and it shouldn't be torn down. "It's the oldest building in town. But just what I am to do about all this I haven't figured out yet.

"If you run into anybody that needs a jail, let me know. I may wind up by making it a gift to somebody somehow."

AIR FORCE FLIES NOVATO JET TO BASE

The F-86 Sabrejet is being donated by the Air Force to the city. It will be placed on the Marion Street school grounds, with formal ceremonies set for 10 a.m., Feb. 22.

The plane was flown to Hamilton by Col. John Scott, commander of the 104th Tactical Wing (National Guard) at Martin Airport in Baltimore, Md.

Stabbed Wife To Testify To Grand Jury

Mrs. Ruth S. Aldeguer, 37, whose husband is accused of stabbing her and killing her alleged boy friend last month, is scheduled to testify before the Marin County Grand Jury tomorrow afternoon.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety said he plans to call Mrs. Aldeguer, Inspector Donald E. Midyett, and Mill Valley Officer Carl Mead in an effort to get a grand jury murder indictment against Luis S. Aldeguer, 37.

Aldeguer, former taxi driver and warehouseman, fled to Los Angeles after the knifing at their home, 10 Plymouth Circle, in Mill Valley. After his capture, he readily admitted the slaying, saying he could not bear to see his wife "carrying on" with James Roger Collins Jr., 38. Collins died on the spot of 13 knife wounds.

The grand jurors will also hear testimony on a San Quentin knifing that took the life of Ezequiel Martinez, 27, last Dec. 28. The suspected assailant, Henry L. Quiroz, 26, claims he killed the other inmate in self-defense.

Lagunitas School Will Have Sinks

Lagunitas School sinks have been unsunk.

By 3-2 vote, Lagunitas School District trustees last night overturned a 2-1 decision of last month which had rejected Supt. Clifford L. Frye's recommendation that sinks be installed in classrooms so that pupils could wash their hands after finger-painting.

Motion to reinstate the sinks was made by Mrs. Marietta F. Larson, vice president of the board, who had previously given notice that this would be done.

Mrs. Winifred S. Frederick and Mrs. Georgette H. Vilas, who had engineered the previous denial when Mrs. Larson was the only other member present, stood by their guns last night but were outvoted.

Mrs. Frederick won one victory in the plumbing line, however. The board agreed that only one instead of two sinks would be in the science room.

Cost of sinks for four classrooms was estimated at $1,400.

Last night's meeting was a special session primarily to meet with Stephen McKee of Lagunitas Development Co., owner of 3.5 acres of land desired by the school, state department of finance officials and architect J. Martin Rosse. Decision was made to proceed with negotiations and it was expected that purchase will be completed sometime this spring.

Ike In California

SAN BERNARDINO (UPI)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and his wife arrived early today en route to a desert vacation at Palm Springs.

The Santa Fe Chief bearing the Eisenhower party in the last two cars of the train pulled into the station at 6:17 a.m. Some 150 persons were on hand to greet the Eisenhowers.

CLOSER COOPERATION

Manager Of Chamber Vows Ties With City

Paul J. Richards, who was hired yesterday as manager of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, said today he plans a program of closer co-operation among city departments and chamber committees.

Richards submitted his letter of resignation to City Manager Dan E. Andersen today. He has been assistant city manager for 18 months.

He will take over his new job on Feb. 22 at a salary of $7,500 a year. It means a salary increase of $1,200 a year for the 29-year-old Richards.

"I think the chamber committees should be kept abreast of what the city departments are doing," he explained today. To accomplish this he urged a better liaison system.

"For example the streets and highway committee should be kept up to date on what Norris Rawles and the public works are doing."

He says he plans to attend every meeting of the city council to keep the chamber "aware of city thoughts and actions."

Richards also emphasized the need for increasing membership of the chamber. He said that although there are more than 1,100 business licenses in the city, the chamber has less than 300 members.

Richards replaces Richard L. Shirley, secretary-manager of the chamber since July, 1956, who resigned as of Jan. 31.

During the interim, Mrs. Ruth Kendall, a secretary at the chamber office, is serving as acting manager.

The city manager said he is working with the League of California Cities to select applicants for assistant city manager to be interviewed by the city council.

Crow Popular But A Thief

WASHINGTON, N.J. (AP) — Blackie is a popular student at Washington High School, even if he does steal pencils.

Blackie is a crow, the pet of 15-year-old Kenneth Lewis. Kenneth adopted the bird last summer, and when the vacation was over Blackie returned to classes with Kenneth. He even attended football practice sessions with his young master.

Kenneth said he has taught Blackie to say "Hello," and how to say his name.

Abolish Three 'Liberal' Agencies, Senator Asks

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Abolition of California's new Fair Employment Practices Commission, the Consumer Counsel and Economic Development Agency was proposed in the legislature today.

Assemblyman Clark L. Bradley (R-San Jose) introduced bills to wipe out the three agencies, all created two years ago as part of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's program of "responsible liberalism."

The offices, Bradley said, aren't worth being continually given more money.

"The savings should be passed on to the taxpayer," he said.

The Republican legislator declared the FEPC has done nothing new to stop discrimination.

"My belief is that you don't go about changing anyone's feelings about another person by passing a law," he said. It's his idea that the best way to fight prejudice is by education.

Bradley said the other two agencies are simply a waste of money.

Annex Study Funds Asked

The Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council's executive board, in a special meeting last night, called on the council's 20 member organizations to help finance its study of possible incorporation of the Tiburon Peninsula.

The board asked that contributions be sent to treasurer John Jansheski, 26 North Terrace, Tiburon, by Feb. 22.

The study by the firm of Griffenhagen-Kroeger will cost $1,250. It is sponsored "for the sole and expressed purpose of ascertaining as nearly as possible effect incorporation will have on the entire peninsula," said council president Dick De Berry.

The board announced "the council will present its findings from the information given, to the people of the area through its regular channels so the residents may decide as to whether or not further action is indicated."

Fairfax Eyes Deer Park Picnic Area

The Fairfax Parks and Recreation Commission was urged last night to consider acquiring the Deer Park picnic area as a park.

Commissioner William Brown said the site, which is in lands owned by the Marin Municipal Water District bordering the city limits, already has picnic facilities on it.

At the same meeting, Brown resigned as chairman of the park and recreation master plan committee because of business pressure. The committee was organized about three months ago. Commissioner Robert Stout was appointed as the new committee chairman.

Brown reported that Harold Walker, a student at College of Marin who is working with the committee on preparing the plan, has been unable to complete his drawings because of school work. The committee will meet on Tuesday at Brown's home, 11 Crescent Lane, Fairfax, to discuss future development of the plan.

Snow Breaks Fall

Nereida, 16, fell seven stories from a kitchen window of her home yesterday and landed in a four-foot snow drift.

She was hospitalized with a possible spine fracture, possible rib fractures and a cut on her right leg. Doctors said that if it hadn't been for the sow, she almost certainly would have been killed.

BULLETIN:

Shell reveals how a $500,000 carload of platinum catalyst puts extra mileage in today's Super Shell —to give your car top performance

Among the 9 ingredients in today's Super Shell is a special component called Platformate. It packs more energy per gallon than the finest 100-octane aviation gasoline. This extra energy turns up as extra mileage.

Read how Shell isolates this extraordinary ingredient by re-forming gasoline with pressure, heat—and platinum.

TODAY's Super Shell promises to deliver top performance. It couldn't keep that promise unless it contained Platformate.

It takes Shell eight million dollars' worth of platinum catalyst—at $500,000 a carload—to produce this extraordinary ingredient. But, fortunately for your pocketbook and ours, this precious catalyst can be used over and over again.

Frightful ordeal adds mileage

The whole platinum re-forming process, which gives Platformate its strange name, puts gasoline through a frightful ordeal. Pressures up to 600 pounds per square inch and temperatures up to 1000 degrees literally tear it apart and then re-form it into super-energy components—such as benzene, xylene and toluene.

These three components, between them, release 11 per cent more energy per gallon than the finest 100-octane aviation gasoline.

But make no mistake. This is not raw, untamed energy. Far from it.

The super-energy of Platformate is harnessed by the eight other ingredients in

The "fifth wheel." Shell test drivers add a fifth wheel to their cars for precise distance measurement, during mileage tests. It helps them record performance to a decimal point.

Super Shell, where it behaves so well you scarcely know it's in your tank—until your extra mileage begins to register. After that, there is no doubt.

So much for one extraordinary ingredient in today's Super Shell. Here are some interesting facts about the other eight. What they are, what they do—and how they do it.

Ingredient #2 is Alkylate, noted for knock control in hot engines

Jimmy Doolittle helped pioneer this outstanding high-octane ingredient for Shell aviation fuel.

Alkylate—the ingredient that took the dream of 100-octane gasoline out of the lab and put it into the skies—is now in Super Shell. It controls knocking in hot engines at high speeds better than anything else yet available.

NOTE: Speaking of controlling knocks at high speeds, remember that car engines frequently turn even faster than the engines of a DC-7. Think of this next time you pass another car.

Ingredient #3 is "cat-cracked" gasoline for power with a purr

This is petroleum that has actually cracked under 900-degree heat and catalytic action. Its heavier molecules have been shattered into livelier, lighter ones. The result is a super-octane ingredient that makes your engine purr with power the moment you put your foot down.

NOTE: "Cat-cracking" refers to the use of a catalyst—the mysterious substance that can alter molecules without changing itself.

Ingredient #4 is anti-knock mix for extra resistance to knocks

You might think that two high-octane ingredients are enough for knock-free performance. But Shell's scientists have ears like musicians.

They insist on adding a special anti-knock mix. A mix, so effective, one teaspoon per gallon can boost anti-knock rating by five points.

This mix has the tricky job of regulating combustion so that Super Shell gives each piston a firm, even push—rather than a sharp blow which would cause a knock.

Ingredient #5 is Butane for quick starts on cold mornings

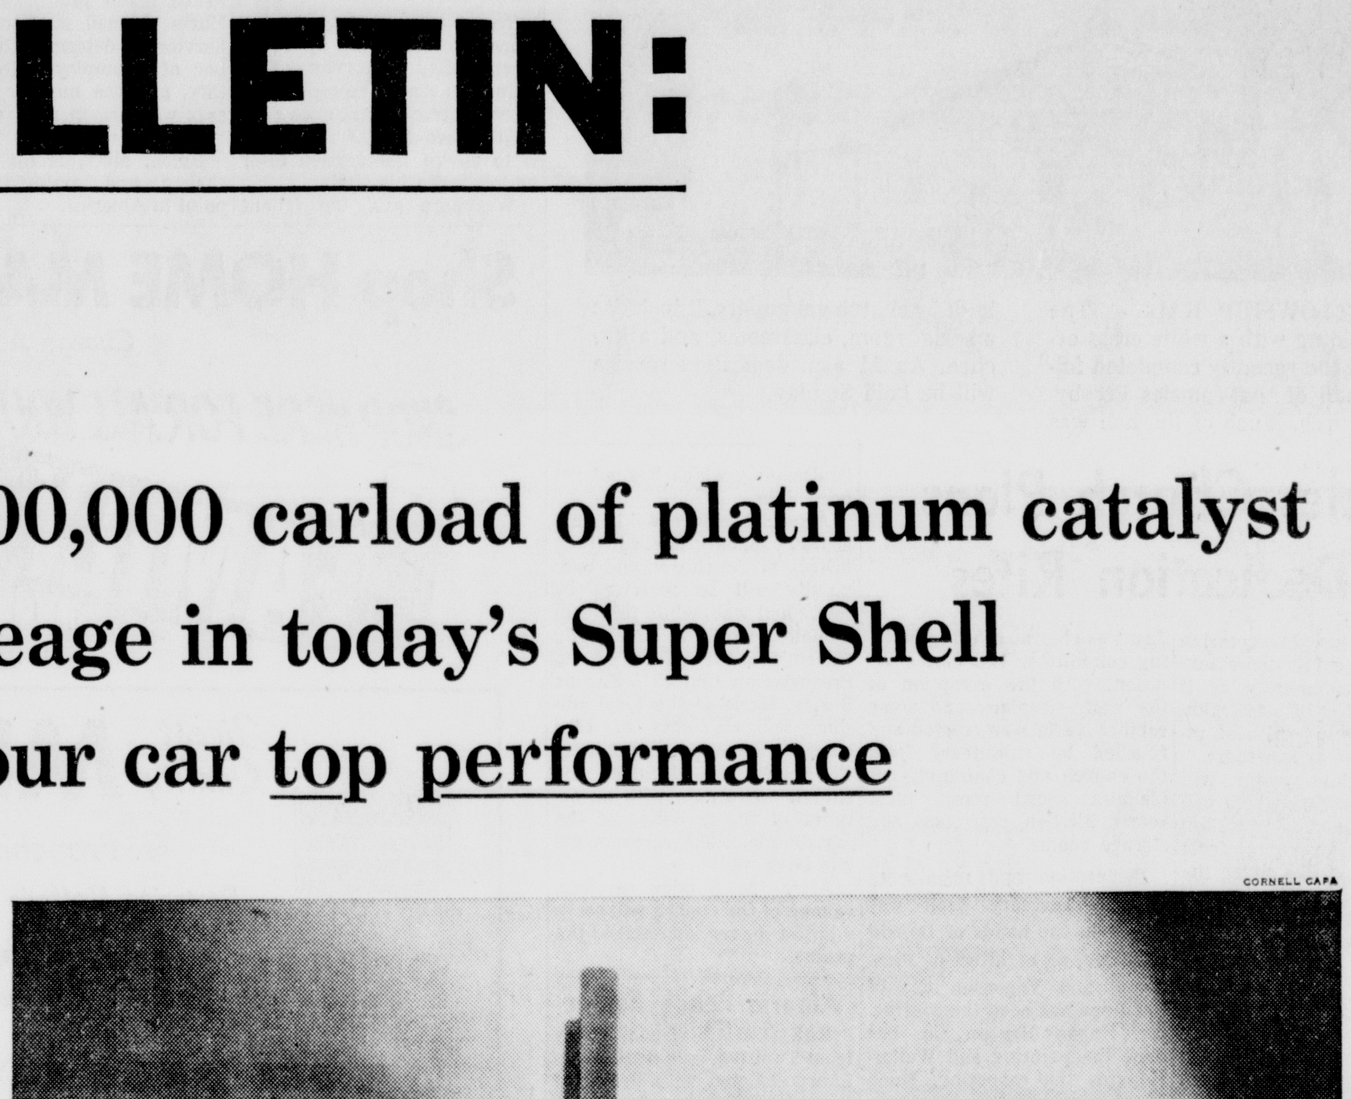
Butane is so eager to get going that Shell keeps it under pressure 400 feet below ground to stop it from vaporizing by itself. Think what this extra volatility means in cold weather. Your engine fires in seconds. There is less strain on your battery. And none on your patience.

NOTE: Super Shell is primed with Butane all year round. In winter, Shell scientists simply increase the quick-start dose.

Ingredient #6 is Pentane mix for fast warm-ups on cold days

Pentanes are made by tearing gasoline apart,

CORNELL CAPA



This is where Platformate is made. The "platforming" reactors are primed with a carload of platinum catalyst. During the re-charging process, a tent is erected at the reactor to protect the catalyst from wind and rain. At half-a-million dollars a carload, it is precious stuff.

much as you split kindling to start a log fire.

In this case, the "logs" are petroleum's heavier hydrocarbons. A special process transforms their molecules from slow-burning "logs" into the quicker-firing "kindling."

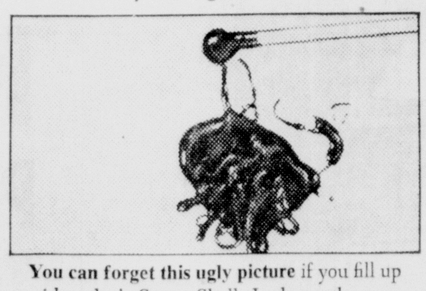
NET RESULT: Fast warm-up and top performance in a hurry.

Neutrons generated by this eerie machine help Shell scientists identify metal impurities that sometimes turn up in crude petroleum.

Ingredient #7 is an "anti-icer" to check cold-weather stalling

Super Shell's formula is adjusted as often as eight times a year to beat the weather. For example, whenever the temperature is likely to be less than forty-five degrees, a carburetor anti-icer is added.

Why add anti-icer at forty-five degrees? Because, even then, frost can form in your carburetor just as it does in your refrigerator. It can choke your engine dead.



You can forget this ugly picture if you fill up with today's Super Shell. It shows the gum that could form in your fuel system if gasoline didn't contain a gum preventive.

Ingredient #8 is gum preventive to keep carburetors clean inside

Even the purest gasoline can form gum when stored. This can clog carburetors and foul automatic chokes. But, with Super Shell, you needn't worry. A special gum preventive does the trick.

It acts like a policeman controlling a mob. Regulates unstable elements to help keep them from clotting. Hence no gum problem.

Ingredient #9 is TCP for power, mileage and longer plug-life

Super Shell now contains an even better version of this famous additive. Its chemical name is cresyl-diphenyl-phosphate.

TCP additive can give your car up to 15 per cent more power; up to 17 extra miles per tankful; and can make plugs last up to twice as long.*

New TCP does this by neutralizing certain harmful effects of combustion deposits. It is scientifically formulated to keep them from glowing when hot—a major cause of power loss. Also to keep them from diverting your spark—a major cause of "missing."

Test Super Shell for yourself

Try Super Shell next time you fill up. You'll soon feel and hear a difference in the way your engine runs.

That difference is top performance.

NEW FELLOWSHIP HALL — The lower building with a white cross ornament is the recently completed fellowship hall of the Tomales Presbyterian Church. Much of the hall was built by church volunteers. It includes a social room, classrooms, and a kitchen. An 11 a.m. dedication service will be held Sunday.

Tomales Church Plans Hall Dedication Rites

The Tomales Presbyterian Church will open its doors Sunday to the community as it holds a service of dedication of its fellowship hall and reconsecration of its sanctuary.

Rev. Roy Ross, pastor, will conduct the service, which will begin at 11 a.m. Rev. Elton Shell, pastor of the church from 1945 to 1950, will deliver the sermon. Mrs. Roy Parks will play the organ, a memorial gift honoring the late Mrs. Sarah Parks, and Mrs. David Burbank Jr. will direct the choir.

"The building, as it stands today, is a monument to the earnest efforts, prayers and toil of many people, declared Rev. Ross. Construction of Fellowship Hall was begun in 1953, under the pastorate of Rev. Marshall Hodge and with Phil Justis as chairman of the building committee. The entire addition, with the exception of the roof, fireplace and some cabinet work, was erected and finished by volunteers from the church and community. It includes social room, class rooms, kitchen, restrooms and storage rooms.

Restoration and refinishing of the sanctuary itself was placed in the hands of Donald Hardison, an architect of Richmond, and Vogensen Co. of Petaluma has been the contractor. Hakon Hanson Co. has done the painting and Weller-Hopkins the carpeting. Much of the preparatory work on this, too, was done by the members themselves. Many memorial gifts have also been made, including at least a part of the landscaping, which has not yet been done.

A special service will be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, when the history of the church and community will be reviewed by Rev. Shell who, while pastor in Tomales, wrote a booklet on "Marin's Historic Tomales and Presbyterian Church." Eugene Brown, clerk of the local session and chairman of the church's historical committee, will bring the story of the church up to date with an account of the activities of the past decade. Light refreshments will be served.

After the Sunday services, women of the church will serve a buffet dinner, announced the pastor.

Kennedy Aid To Speed Marin City Job Asked

The Marin City Tenants Council wired President John F. Kennedy and Rep. Clement W. Miller (D-Corte Madera) today asking "immediate action" to speed up redevelopment in Marin City.

The council at its meeting Monday announced it has hired Marin City attorney Tom Roinde to study the redevelopment contract being drawn up with James Scheuer. Roinde is to advise the council after he has made his study.

Westmore said the tenant council will press for job preference in the redevelopment work for Marin County people to help alleviate unemployment.

Westmore said a survey is to be made jointly with the Marin Council of Community Services to determine the number of unemployed in Marin City, and the number of tenants who are in need of food.

FRENCH FRY FLARE UP CAUSES FIRE

French fried potatoes got too well done and touched off a fire in the kitchen of Tia's Coffee Shop, 60 Corte Madera Avenue, Corte Madera, yesterday while the dinner meals were being served to the customers at 6:50 p.m.

Grease from the potatoes caused the fire which was extinguished by firemen after all the customers were moved out of the restaurant. The damage was estimated at $250.

School Finance Plans Approved

OAKLAND (AP)—Three East Bay school finance proposals were approved by voters yesterday.

In the Decoto district a $500,000 school bond issue was approved 882 to 130. The district also was authorized, 861 to 152, to borrow 1.5 million dollars from the state.

In the Warm Springs School District a $150,000 bond issue was approved 65 to 1.

The Byron Union School District in Contra Costa County voted 154 to 43 to continue a tax ceiling of $1.50 for the area for the next five years.

Business Tells Views On Gold

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A mail ballot of the Commonwealth Club of California, released today, shows its business leaders favor solving inflation by tax and credit measures but oppose controlled economy, revaluation of gold and a return to the gold standard.

The vote against returning to the gold standard was by a narrow margin, 928 for, 953 against.

SIGHTLESS 'READ' AT LIBRARY

Esther Salata, 15, Redwood High School sophomore, and Fletcher Hicks, San Rafael High School English teacher, both sightless, are shown "reading" a Braille volume of World Book Encyclopedia on display at the San Rafael Public Library through Monday. The first printing of an encyclopedia in Braille, being conducted by the American Printing House for the Blind, will number 145 volumes and contain 38,000 pages. The regular edition of World Book numbers 20 volumes and has 11,700 pages. The printing is said to be the largest Braille printing project ever undertaken. (Independent-Journal photo)

Law To Control Makers Of Cosmetics Advocated

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—In her first major legislative effort since she took office 16 months ago, State Consumer Counsel Helen E. Nelson of Mill Valley today proposed that California cosmetic manufacturers be regulated.

Among the things she wants to prevent, she said, are the use of hair drying compounds which in one case caused women to lose their hair. Another case involved nit eggs in imported hair brushes which afflicted the buyers with lice.

State Sen. Fred Farr (D-Carmel) said he will introduce the bill today with the approval of Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

As proposed the bill would authorize the State Department of Public Health to regulate some 90 manufacturing firms—mostly around Hollywood—which do an estimated 60-million-dollar annual business, Mrs. Nelson said.

She pointed out that only cosmetics in interstate commerce meet the quality standards of the federal pure food, drug and cosmetics law. The current state proposal would match the provisions of that statute as it affects cosmetics which the legislature failed to enact when it passed the state pure food and drug law in the late 1930s. She said 30 other states have such a law.

"There's a gap in our protection," Mrs. Nelson said, "which affects all 16 million California consumers." And she listed the kinds of products that the proposed law would regulate:

Children's home permanent waves; bust developers which might harm users, especially teen-agers; suntan oils; skin rejuvenators, wrinkle removers and skin bleaches; hair restorers, removers and straighteners; nail growers; eye makeup and beauty or health devices such as chin straps and eye shades.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Business To Be Asked To Take Part In National Defense Setup

Local business and industry shortly will be called upon to participate in the formation of a Marin and Sonoma county chapter of the National Defense Transportation Assn.

While the move in this area is being started at the suggestion of Col. Reet P. Smith, deputy commander for services at Hamilton Air Force Base which will support and be active in it, the organization is neither run nor carried by the military. It is primarily an association of citizens interested in transportation and its relation to national defense.

Objectives of the NDTA are to assist in effecting transportation preparedness and to make studies and reports pertaining to all phases as they may affect requirements during an emergency, and to promote cooperation between the various segments of transportation, including rail, water, highways, air, warehousing and packaging and tie them in with disaster relief agencies and civil defense.

The importance and benefits of NDTA will be explained to civic leaders and members of the press from Marin and Sonoma counties at the Officers Club, Hamilton Air Force Base by Charles Knight, general traffic manager of the Kaiser Steel Corp. and president of the association's San Francisco chapter.

ROY M. MICHAEL, president of the Royce Finance Plan and William H. Kirk, general manager of the firm which opened offices at 935 Lootens Place, San Rafael, last October are bubbling over with enthusiasm, and no wonder—

Business consummated from the opening date through January, they say, has amounted to what they had expected to do in a full year's operation.

They're talking now about expansion in store and dealer contracts — and possibly another office.

MARINDIVIDUALS IN BUSINESS. Robert S. Goldener, 1704 Center Road, Novato, will represent State Farm Insurance Companies at 1001 D Street, San Rafael. He was formerly with Borden's . . . Robert E. Sutherland, 551 Virginia Drive, Tiburon, and previously used car sales manager at Ellis Brooks Chevrolet in San Francisco, has been made general sales manager of the company . . . Edward K. Wachsman, 539 Thyme Place, San Rafael, has been named a "Million Dollar Producer" for the third successive year by Provident Mutual Life Insurance Co. He is associated with the Johnston Agency in San Francisco . . . Another million-dollar life insurance writer for three successive years—and a real young one, at that — is Thomas J. O'Reilly, 804 Greenberry Lane, San Rafael. He's with Metropolitan Life—Golden Gate Agency in San Francisco.

A DEVELOPMENT in the masonry industry which may lead to increased use of its products in building is a new adhesive originated by Raybestos-Manhattan, Inc., of Bridgeport, Conn.

Called Raybestos Threadline Mortar, it is a combination of organic and inorganic ingredients which, when combined, make a strong bond for concrete, cinder and lightweight blocks and red clay bricks. Characteristics are high strength, thin, waterproof joints, fast cure and easy, rapid application by continuous trowel or caulking gun.

Raybestos-Manhattan says its use takes about 50 per cent less time in block laying than with ordinary mortar and that it is five times stronger in bond.

Claimed benefits to builders include a reduction in labor costs which could place masonry products back into competition with panelings and other walls.

Cal-Vet Loan Total

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—California veterans negotiated 21.1 million dollars worth of "Cal-Vet" farm and home loans last December, according to the State Department of Veterans Affairs.

Vertical Takeoff Plane Planned

PALO ALTO (UPI)—Hiller Aircraft Corp. announced today that two other companies will join it in building a vertical takeoff assault transport plane.

A Hiller spokesman said research and development on the aircraft would begin in the next four or five months. It should be ready to fly by the summer of 1963, he said.

Other firms joining Hiller in the project are Chance Vought Corp., of Dallas, Tex., and Ryan Aeronautical Co., of San Diego.

The spokesman said the plane is a joint venture of the Army, Navy and Air Force. The Defense Department wanted such a craft to be suitable for all services.

Sausalito Eyes 'Stilt' House Construction

Council To Take Second Look At Marinship Plan

The Sausalito City Council decided last night to take a second look at its ban on stilt construction for apartment houses on the Marinship waterfront.

William H. V. Brooke, Belvedere architect, urged the council to consider the use of buildings on piers for a boatel unit which his firm is designing for a builder.

Mill Valley architect Michael Wornum, in a letter, told the council "stilt" construction for hillside development has both structural and aesthetic advantages. Wornum expressed alarm at the proposal to throw out the "excellent system" of building on exposed separate columns on detached piers.

Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich said the council had "drifted into the 'stilt' construction subject," and that "I'm not sure we considered all the implications."

The planning commission gave pros and cons on the matter and said "these matters were groundwork for a zoning ordinance." It gave no specific recommendation.

The council referred to the planning commission a request from three property owners in the southern end of Marinship that their property be zoned "protected industrial." The three companies are A. G. Schoonmaker Co., Vincent Whitney Co. and Cement Gun Construction.

The council said it would also consider the Lando property in this same category on request of E. A. Lando.

The council also:

1. Directed City Atty. John B. Ehlen to mail a copy of his opinion on the Shelter Cove purchase referendum request to Herbert Hawkins, representing cove petitioners. The council indicated that the opinion, which said the referendum did not qualify, would be an answer to Hawkins' request for response to the petition.
2. Announced that councilmen Howard Sievers and George E. Keeney will meet at 8 p.m. Monday in the city hall to study conditions suggested for granting the use permit for Heath-Allied Grocers to build a shopping center in Marinship.
3. Asked Ehlen to meet with members of the Sausalito cruising club to try to work out a method to give the club a lease for a floating barge on Johnson Street in return for the club's removing the sunken ship Lassen.
4. Approved plans and specifications for widening and resurfacing Second, South and Alexander Streets, and called for bids.
5. Agreed to hold an adjourned meeting next Tuesday to handle unfinished business.
6. Approved warrants totaling $25,524.

Sausalito Praises Recreation Report

The Sausalito Recreation Commission was complimented last night for its report, presented by Chairman John R. Minton, on the long-range development program for recreation in Sausalito.

The report was referred to the planning commission for study as it relates to the master plan.

The plan has two main projects: A major waterfront access area for recreational, civic and cultural use proposed in the Napa-Litho Street area and neighborhood parks in residential districts.

Councilman Marjorie Brady said, "It should be brought to the attention of citizens that the city accepts gifts and would love to have a little piece of property in the neighborhood areas which might be created into parks and recreational areas."

A BIG SPIDER FOR THE MOON

Dr. Leo Stoolman poses with a full-scale model of a spacecraft at Caltech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena. The robot spacecraft is to be built by Hughes Aircraft Co., and is planned by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for an easy landing on the moon. It will be fitted with instruments, drills and television cameras with equipment designed to analyze moon materials and report the finding back to earth. The craft, resembling a long-legged spider, is planned for use in about two years. It will weight 2,500 pounds when launched and 750 pounds when it lands on the moon. (AP Wirephoto)

SUPERVISORS ROUNDUP

Assessor Finally Gets Trip Approval

Protest by West Marin dairymen against Marin County supervisors' pinching of travel pennies led yesterday to reversal of a former denial of a Sacramento trip requested by the assessor and his assistant. But the reversal came a little late.

Apparently overlooked was that the trip in question was to a three-day convention of the Northern Regional Group of County Assessors which started Monday and ended today.

Assessor Bert W. Broemmel took off early today to take advantage of his chance for the final day of the meeting, but his assistant H. W. Johnson, confined to his home with a cold, stayed put. Broemmel had argued earnestly last week against finance committee denial of a $78.80 travel request but the board at that time stood 3-2 against what was termed a "junket."

By yesterday the board received communications from leading dairymen headed by Horace Edrington as president of the Marin County Herd Improvement Asn., strongly reinforcing Broemmel's contention that the trip was important to the dairy interests.

Protestors included Alfred J. Bianchi, Waldo Giacomini, James Grossi, Joe Mendoza, Donald McIsaac and Mervyn Zimmerman, among others.

Supervisor William Gnoss, who with Walter R. Castro had backed Broemmel last week, moved for reconsideration of the denial. "Dairying is among the biggest Marin industries and the dairymen never come in to criticize or to ask for anything," said Gnoss.

Chairman William D. Fusselman wanted to know if the Broemmel trip would result in a cut of dairy assessments.

"A cut isn't the idea. These conferences just help to make sure we are right in the procedure," said Gnoss.

Flanked by Gnoss and Castro, Fusselman said "I'm going along under extreme pressure from the left and right." The trip was approved 4-0 with Supervisor J. Walter Blair, finance chairman, absent due to illness.

The supervisors also:

1. Appointed Mary Newcomb an intermediate typist-clerk with the planning commission at $320 monthly.
2. Approved a public works department suggestion that the county road priority schedule be submitted to the California Division of Highways just before budget time, on theory that the later the presentation the better the prospects for gasoline tax and auto license funds.
3. Authorized payment of $142.24 to William Wollitz, group supervisor at juvenile hall, for seven holidays in lieu of equivalent time off.
4. At state request, deferred to Feb. 28 consideration of proposed barrier at South Knoll Road on Tiburon Boulevard to prohibit left turns.
5. Replenish the supervisors' mileage fund, depleted by last-minute claims of outgoing Supervistors Vera Schultz and James Marshall, by appropriation of $1,500.
6. Asked the public works department to issue encroachment permits to permit dredging in Salt Works Canal, Richardson Bay, by Greenwood Lagoon developers.
7. Skipped the usual meeting next Monday, as the previous day is Lincoln's Birthday, and ajourned to 1 p.m. Tuesday with a second meeting set for 1 p.m. Wednesday

Small Car, Dog Tangle; Dog Wins

PAGELAND, S. C. (AP)—Miss Mickey Yount of Charlotte, N.C., and three girl friends were headed east in her small foreign car when a black and white hound walked into the highway.

The little car hit the dog, flipped over into a ditch and came to rest with windows broken, windshield out and chassis buckled beyond repair. The girls crawled out, unhurt. The dog?

"I think his tail was broken," said Miss Yount. "It seemed a little bent as he trotted away."

Rancher Re-appointed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Petaluma rancher John S. Watson was named to another one-year term as president of the State Board of Agriculture by Gov. Edmund G. Brown today.

SAUSALITO WON'T DALLY WITH SALLY

Mrs. Marsha Owen, better known as Sally Stanford, spurned a special invitation from the Sausalito City Council last night.

Councilmen wanted to talk to Mrs. Owen about the advertising signs on and near her Valhalla Inn at 201 Bridgeway. But she, rightly guessing the chat might not be altogether pleasant, turned down a mid-meeting telephone call with the word, "Tell them I am entertaining important company, including a general."

The council two weeks ago had ordered that a neon sign be removed from the Valhalla roof, and turned down a request for another sign extending over the sidewalk. But both blazed while councilmen burned last night.

The council, with Mrs. Owen not present, then decreed:

(1) The sign on the roof must come down this week; (2) the sign must be unlit tonight, if still on roof, (3) the legality of the new sign in a setback area will be looked into by City Atty. John B. Ehlen and a report made to the council next Tuesday.

Reed Parents Club To Remain Local

The board of directors of the Reed District Parent-Teachers Club last night voted to remain a local club rather than affiliate with the Parent-Teacher Assn.

The turndown was recommended by the objectives committee, headed by Henry Schubart Jr., which has been studying the problem since last May.

Mrs. Benton D. Mathews, president, appointed a committee to implement other recommendations of the objectives committee, which involve by-law changes. Committee members are Mesdames Samuel W. Fordyce, Frederic M. Parke, Hamilton Holt Jr. and Edwin H. Sinclair.

Kennedy Vows 'Moral' Support In Integration

WASHINGTOHN (AP) — President John F. Kennedy pledged today that he will use the "moral authority or position of influence of the presidency" in school desegregation situations.

The president at his news conference said students should be permitted to attend schools in accordance with court decisions.

The statements were made in response to a request for comment on a boycott by white students of schools in New Orleans, ordered desegregated three months ago by a federal court. A reporter said there appears to be an organized campaign of intimidation which has kept most white children out of these schools.

Kennedy replied that he will speak out about the New Orleans situation "at such time as I think it is most useful and effective."

He said he will attempt to use the "moral authority or position of influence of the presidency in New Orleans and in other places."

Pressed for a more specific statement, Kennedy said:

"As far as New Orleans goes it is my position that all students should be given the opportunity to attend public schools regardless of their race, and that is in accordance with the Constitution."

Kennedy said it is his opinion that the people of the country believe as he does about this matter.

Kennedy said he feels efforts to provide "a more harmonious aquiescence with the court decision" in New Orleans should wait until the administration has concluded an analysis of the situation there.

Kennedy Won't Ask Tax Cut Now For Economy's Sake

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy said today he does not intend to ask Congress at this time for any cut in taxes aimed at spurring the national economy.

The president told his news conference he and his advisers are going to take a new look at the economy in April and decide then whether any additional government action is needed to lift the level of business.

Kennedy left open the question of whether he then might recommend some cuts in taxes. He noted that as a senator he voted during the 1958 recession against tax cuts in March of that year, and for cuts in June. The tax cutting move lost in Congress.

"I will say that I am not convinced at the present time that Congress would entertain that (tax cut) proposal," Kennedy said, "and I would not make it at the present time because I do think we should have more experience and more perspective on the state of the economy before making a proposal which is quite far-reaching."

Kennedy said a tax cut probably would cost four billion to five billion dollars in revenue. Such a loss, he said, would limit the nation's ability to go ahead with programs which he feels might be more useful in the long run.

Bears Hibernate By Hot Spring

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Mont. (AP)—A black mother bear and two cubs have taken a season's lease on a steam-heated "apartment" in Yellowstone Park.

Their snores can be heard above a hole heated by an active hot spring.

Park rangers say it has been used by hibernating bears for the last 10 years.

Sen. Collier Turns Down U.S. Public Roads Post

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sen. Randolph Collier (D-Yreka) said today he has declined appointment by President John F. Kennedy as commissioner of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

The veteran legislator, co-author of legislation which launched California's freeway system, said he felt obligated to remain here.

"I have decided to stay and finish the job we started on highways many years ago," Collier said.

A legislator since 1939, he is chairman of the Senate Transportation Committee.

Since passage of the Collier-Burns Act in 1947, California has pushed its freeway mileage to 875 with another 300 under construction, in addition to more than 800 miles of multi-lane expressway.

North Coast's Jobless Rate Up

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Assemblyman Frank P. Belotti (R.-Eureka) said yesterday that the North Coast's total unemployment, now about 16 per cent, is twice the normal seasonal rate.

Lumbering and fishing usually decline during the stormy winter months, he said, so that about 8 per cent of the work force is thrown out of work for a short season.

Belotti said he had introduced a bill to grant $460,000 to Humboldt County for construction of the refuge harbor at Shelter Cove to aid construction trades hit hard by unemployment.

NOBODY WAS AT THE WHEEL

Roofer Tony Taormina of San Francisco was at work at 562 Virginia Drive, in Little Reed Heights, Tiburon, yesterday afternoon when he saw his truck, loaded with gravel, rolling downhill from where he had parked it. It crossed the drive, crashed through a fence at 562 Virginia, and stopped against the house of G. K. Von Kaesborg at 558 Virginia. Helper B. Maldonado of San Francisco told the California Highway Patrol he had changed Taormina's parking safeguards while lifting the dump body and had hopped off safely as the truck started its roll. Machine Can't Replace Man, Scouts Told

One of the top air defense experts in California told 43 Marin County Eagle Scouts last night that "man is still the best all-purpose servo-mechanism system known," and has "the capability of 10 billion electronic tubes."

No machine can ever replace him, Maj. Gen. John D. Stevenson, commander of the 28th Air Division (SAGE) at Hamilton Air Force Base, concluded.

The general spoke at a dinner meeting of the Eagle Scouts and their adult sponsors at Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera.

"No matrix of tubes or wire can give us leadership," Stevenson told the teen-agers. "You can't get the right answer out of a machine unless you put the right information into it."

He said that manned spacecraft now on the drawing boards will be able to travel east around the world from Cape Canaveral to San Francisco in 90 minutes.

"The pilot will have to decide over Sydney, Australia, whether he is going to land in California the first time around," Stevenson explained.

Panel To Discuss Pastor's Role Against Reds

"Are many Protestant ministers too soft on communism?" will be discussed by a panel of ministers on the radio station KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" program from 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Participating will be Rev. Wesley C. Baker of the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael, Rev. Lawrence Doyle of Novato Community Methodist Church, Rev. Michael Barkowska of Calvary Baptist Church, Larkspur, and a fourth panelist not yet selected, announced Kitty Oppenheimer, moderator.

Corte Madera Burns Shack In Fire Drill

Clearing away of the chicken shack at the used-to-be Meadow Sweet Poultry Farm on Casa Buena Drive, Corte Madera, was used as a fire drill for 15 Corte Madera volunteer firemen, headed by Asst. Chief Harold Kelley, yesterday at 7 p.m.

The burning of the old structure will be followed in about two months by the construction of a 72-unit apartment building by Agar, Wilsey and Wilsey Co. of Oakland. The construction will cover a 6.7-acre site.

Runaway Sausalito Boys Picked Up

Three runaway Sausalito boys were picked up by Fort Bragg police at 4:35 a.m. today for violating the curfew law. They are being released to their parents, Sausalito Police Chief Howard Goerndt said.

The boys, one 15 and two 17, were suspended for one week from Tamalpais High School yesterday after cutting school.

SLAYING

reports that Sangster had put an advertisement in the San Francisco Examiner last December saying he was willing to do any type of work within the law to pick up some money. A young Mill Valley woman may have been among those who answered the advertisement, investigators said.

Whoever killed Sangster and dumped his nude body in a makeshift grave must have known the area quite well, the sheriff theorized. The scene is almost a mile and a half from the closest road, although a jeep may be able to drive closer to the spot.

The man who found the body, Vernon E. Smock, a Sausalito machinist, has been helping sheriff's deputies comb the death scene for clues. No clothes or weapons were found, despite a six-hour search by a dozen officers yesterday.

Smock said he parked his car off Fairfax-Bolinas Road Saturday afternoon and went for a hike. At the time he parked, he noticed two cars parked in the same area, he said. One was a late model hardtop, light two-tone, of a popular make, possibly a Chevrolet or Plymouth. The other was a older model, perhaps four or five years old, dull dark color. It may have been a sedan or a small station wagon.

During the hike, Smock said he heard some scraping sound and thought he heard something running through the underbrush.

When he returned to his car, the other two cars were gone. One of them probably belonged to a man and two children, a boy and girl about 6 or 7 years old, who were walking in the area about the time he parked his car, Smock recalls. He went back to the area Sunday afternoon with his wife and stumbled on the body, he told officers.

Master Plan Meeting Slated

Citizens committees who will aid in drawing up a master plan for Novato will meet with the city planning commission for their second session at 8 o'clock tonight at Novato High School cafeteria.

"The planning process" is the title of tonight's discussion, led by the county planning staff.

The 68 committee members appointed by the city council had dwindled to 63 today, after resignations.

COSTS

financing costs for the project are unreasonable.

Miller wrote that Scheuer and Barrett Construction Co., contractors on the project, have made every effort to cut building costs. They have reduced actual building costs to about $9.50 per square foot, said Miller, but: "By the time you add on FHA financing costs and so on, the minimum costs come up to $14.50 a square foot. In other words, we are in the ironic situation where financing and added charges for this, that and the other increase the cost per foot by 50 per cent."

Karl E. Treffinger, project representative for Scheuer, confirmed that "prices have been shooting up, but we are still bound and determined to live with our costs and are scratching our heads architecturally to keep costs down."

He and Klahn said financing for cooperative apartments would be 16 per cent cheaper than that for regular rental apartments. (Under the cooperative plan, the tenant pays a down payment before moving in, then pays monthly rental and eventually "owns" the apartment. Klahn said rebates to the owner-renters would reduce the actual per-month cost by about $8.

Miller called the cost squeeze, with its threat of pricing the apartments out of reach of Marin City residents, "a crowning blow to all the other indignities that these people have been subjected to."

Klahn, while terming the price situation "serious," took a less dour view than the congressman.

All Marin City families qualifying for the low-rent apartments have been relocated in them, Klahn said, and the housing authority is now admitting renters from a waiting list of 120 eligible families who live elsewhere in the county.

More than 300 other families remain in Marin City, Klahn said. He admitted that the spread between $84 tops for the low-rent project and $115 minimum for the cooperative apartments presents a considerable hurdle for many of these families, but said it is still hoped to reduce the rentals of the cooperative apartments slightly.

As to housing to be built for sale as part of the redevelopment, Klahn said it "is going to be superior housing, comparable with anything in the county." Because the redeveloper bears no site preparation cost, he said, it will be possible to sell two-bedroom houses for $12,000 to $13,000, three bedroom houses for $13,750 to $14,550, and four-bedroom houses for $14,500 to $16,900.

Asked whether increasing unemployment might swell the list of those eligible for the low-rent project beyond the 300 units available Klahn said:

"That is one of the reasons why we want to get started immediately on the redevelopment project—to give employment to these people in Marin City."

Another Drug Offer For State

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A second drug manufacturer has promised the state 10 per cent discounts on drugs purchased for welfare programs, Assemblyman Phillip Burton (D-San Francisco) said yesterday.

The latest offer came from E. R. Squibb and Sons.

Belvedere Suit Asks $15,000 —Termites

Dr. Richard S. Hahn of Belvedere, well-known Marin chest specialist, is suing Britton Rey of Belvedere and a termite inspector for $15,000 damages, alleging that a home which Rey sold him turned out to be termite-infested.

The trial is expected to continue for several days before Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court.

Dr. Hahn and his wife, Gloria, said they bought a two-story stucco home at 428 Golden Gate Avenue in Belvedere from Rey and his wife, Audrey, in July of 1957. A termite inspection was made at the time by William Woods.

In September, 1958, Dr. Hahn said, he had a portion of the stucco exterior removed for a repair and repaint job and discovered termites in the wall.

The Hahns contend the Reys knew of the termites but did not reveal the fact. They accuse the termite man of not turning in a true report of the conditions. Rey is city manager of Belvedere.

WATER

3,000 acre feet will be needed to supply the city until completion of the new line next winter, Gilbert said.

If run-off from rains does not supply the needed water, the North Marin district may have to buy water from the Marin Municipal Water District for a short time, through a pipeline connection between the districts, Gilbert said. But he noted that if North Marin lacks rain, the southern part of the county also may be short.

If buying is not possible, water may have to be rationed by asking consumers to cut down on unnecessary use, he said.

Directors of the North District will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the district office at 834 Vallejo Avenue to authorize sale of bonds to finance the pipeline project. Bids will be opened March 7 for $1,400,000 to $1,500,000 worth of bonds.

Yesterday in Sonoma County, the First National City Bank of New York was low bidder for $2,720,000 worth of bonds which will finance pipeline construction in that county. The average interest rate bid was 3.561 per cent.

Voters in the North Marin district approved a $3,790,000 bond issue in June, 1960, for construction of the line, under a joint contract with Sonoma County, and for a 10-year improvement program and other expansion in North Marin.

Directors last night also approved a series of improvements to be financed by the bonds being sold March 7:

1. Temporary enlargement of the pumping capacity of the Sutro Avenue pumping station until completion of the new station now being constructed, $950.

2. Relining of the Loma Verde storage tank with coal tar enamel, $3,000.

3. A year's program of replacing separate plastic pipe sections from street lines to almost 300 homes, $14,000. The replacement will be made primarily by driving copper pipe through the present plastic pipe, an idea originated by district engineers.

OBITUARIES

Maintenance Man Dies At Convent

John W. Thamarus, 43, maintenance man at Dominican Convent, was found dead in his room at the convent yesterday. Coroner Frank J. Keaton said he had apparently died of natural causes.

John Parchucik and Frydrych Mieczysla, gardeners at the convent, discovered the body at 5:40 p.m. They noticed Thamarus' door ajar and stopped to visit him. When the pair opened the door they found Tharmarus lying just inside the doorway.

The two gardeners notified convent authorities, who called Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy, who pronounced Thamarus dead.

Tharmarus started work at the convent last Nov. 15. In the latter part of December he suffered from the flu but refused to see a doctor, a convent spokesman said.

He was born in New Jersey and was a veteran of World War II. He had no known relatives.

Fred A. Goss, former manager of National Auto Parts Co. in San Rafael, was killed while cleaning a .22 caliber rifle in the garage of his Sacramento home Monday.

The death of the 55-year-old avid rifleman and target shot was listed as accidental by the coroner's office.

Goss worked at the auto parts company in San Rafael from 1936 to 1948. He moved to Stockton and then to Sacramento where he worked for an automotive electrical parts company.

A native of the Channel Islands, Goss moved with his parents to San Francisco and then came to San Rafael in 1936. While in Marin County he married Helen C. Darragh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence J. Darragh of 240 C Street, San Rafael.

He is survived by his wife; two sons, Fred L. of San Luis Obispo and Joseph of Sacramento; two daughters, Catherine of Sacramento and Laura of Sonoma; his mother, Mrs. Laura Goss of San Francisco; two brothers, Joseph and Jack of San Francisco and a sister, Mrs. Pat Borasi of Fresno.

Funeral services will be held at W. F. Gormley and Sons Chapel in Sacramento at 11 a.m. tomorrow. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow. Interment will be in St. Mary's Cemetery, Sacramento.

CHARLES W. ROBB

Funeral services for Charles W. Robb, who was found dead yesterday in Novato, will be held at 11 a.m. Friday at the Redwood Chapel in Novato. Interment will be in Greenlawn Memorial Park, Colma.

Robb, 77, had lived with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Arnett, 2039 Shady Lane, for a short time after moving from San Francisco.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Cora Hoffman Robb, visiting in Long Beach; three daughters, Mrs. Ted Goff of Santa Rosa, Mrs. Robert Almack of Tulsa, Okla., and Mrs. Arnett; a son, Ernest Robb of Grand Junction, Colo.; three sisters, Mrs. Edna Thompson of Decatur, Ill., Mrs. Lena Rinehart of Blue Mound, Ill., and Mrs. Myrtle Fredenburg of Torrance; three grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

DEATHS

GOSS—In Sacramento, Feb. 6, 1961, Fred A. Goss, husband of Helen C. Goss, father of Fred L., Joseph, Catherine and Laura Goss, son of Laura and the late Fred W. HOSPITAL the neighborhood of $40 per month. Mr. Klahn tells me that this sort of combination has worked out in several places in the United States.

"This sort of facility could be very easily built by the federal government at Lucas Valley."

Fusselman said that the county housing authority "enthusiastically approved a survey to be conducted by the federal agency.

"As soon as this survey is accomplished I will arrange for a conference with the board members, housing authority and all county departments concerned with the over-all problem."

Fusselman attached a Feb. 2 telegram addressed by President John F. Kennedy to the "chairman of the board of supervisors of Marin County" but consistently referring to "your city" and evidently applicable to both cities and counties. It read:

"Our efforts to improve the employment situation can be helped considerably by increased urban renewal activity. Just in the case of your city, there are many projects now under way or whose final plans have been approved in many cities that can be speeded up creating additional jobs."

Fusselman understood as locally applicable the next sentence:

"I have directed the Housing and Home Finance Agency officials in Washington and in regional offices to eliminate all delay and to cooperate with local authorities in beginning construction of these projects at the earliest possible time and in maintaining steady efforts to complete them . . .

"I urge you to do everything within your ability to eliminate delay and I promise you the full cooperation of the federal government to this end. (Signed) John F. Kennedy."

"It's worth exploring and we may get something out of it," Fusselman said. "Nurses mostly could qualify for such domicile, and there's nothing in the law that prohibits a nurse from taking care of people," he commented.

He said that one nurse could care for three patients, "so a $300 nurse could take care of $120 worth of rentals."

Fusselman also pointed out that architectural supervision of whatever might be federally built would be under Marin County jurisdiction.

The board deferred action on a request by Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy Jr., county medical director, for authorization to buy four more beds for the county hospital.

New Moisturizing Colonaid Stops
CONSTIPATION DUE TO DEHYDRATION
without gag, bloat or gripe

Most constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that loses so much moisture that its contents become so dry they block the bowel; so shrunken they fail to stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE colon to action; to a normal urge to purge. And, of all laxatives, only new COLONAID possesses its great moisturizing capacity plus its stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so gentle it has been hospital-proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation overnight. So, for positive relief from constipation, get amazing, moisturizing new COLONAID today! INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

Plans For Trees Detailed By Hub Chamber Leader

San Anselmo Avenue and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in downtown San Anselmo may have maple trees within two weeks.

The streets and highways committee of the chamber of commerce met with City Councilman Arthur W. Smith and City Administrator Douglas Flautt Monday to discuss the plan.

Chairman A. L. Nipper said the merchants plan to buy the trees at $50 per tree and install them in cement tubs along the sidewalks. He said they are asking the city to maintain the trees.

The committee's plan, along with slides comparing San Anselmo's two main downtown streets with certain tree-lined streets in Oakland, will be shown the city council next Tuesday night in the city hall.

Nipper said the slides are being shown to merchants this week. He said the plan is receiving enthusiastic support.

LEON TICHININ
Farm speaker

Farm Bureau To Hear Santa Clara Adviser

Leon Tichinin, Russian-born farm adviser from Santa Clara County, will be guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Marin County Farm Bureau, it was announced today by Donald McIsaac, president.

The luncheon meeting will begin at 10 a.m. on Feb. 22 at the West Marin School in Point Reyes Station. Bureau members will cook the luncheon, McIsaac said.

Tichinin, an American citizen since 1939, is a graduate of University of California. He has worked with the Soil Conservation Service and serves as an instructor in institution-on-farm training in San Jose.

In 1959, Tichinin was sent to Moscow by the U.S. government to serve as Russian-speaking expert on American agriculture at the American National Exhibition. He was recently given an award for distinguished service and the merit award emblem by the U.S. Information Agency for his work in Russia.

Old Money Falls From Kids' Toy

NEWTON, Iowa (AP) — Progress is important but a firm sometimes has to live a bit in the past, George Umbreit, a washing machine companl executive, points out.

In 1959 his company sold five cranks for the wringer assembly of a washer it introduced in 1919.

And last year, Umbreit adds, was the first in which the firm has not received an order for a piston ring for the engine of a washer first brought out in 1914.

TRACTS MAKING INROADS

Marin's Farm Output Value Dips $600,000

The gross value of Marin County agricultural production in 1960 dropped by more than $600,000 from 1959, it was revealed today in an annual report on crop and livestock production by Richard T. Straw, agricultural commissioner.

"Fruit, nut and vegetable crops are becoming almost nonexistent, giving way to subdivisions and the price-cost squeeze which affects the entire agricultural economy," Straw said.

While there is a drop in agricultural production, there is a sharp increase in plant diseases and pests on the home-garden level, Straw said, indicating that the shrinking farm economy does not mean any less work or fewer employees for the agricultural commissioner's staff.

Field and orchard crops, including vegetables, seed, fruit and nuts, dropped from $921,415 in 1959 to $906,000 in 1960.

The nursery and cut flower industry decreased from $13,378,961 to $12,684,000.

The total drop for the entire industry was from $14,567,164 to $13,942,000.

Wins Camera

C. F. Cohrone, 1022 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, was fifth prize winner in the recently concluded national raisin bread "Toast-to-Travel Sweepstakes" contest, the California Raisin Advisory Board announced. The prize was a camera.

Hub Bake Shop In San Rafael

Lydia Stokes Bake Shop, a San Anselmo landmark for 24 years, has moved to San Rafael and will open Feb. 15.

The new address of the bakery, which specializes in products made with unbleached flour without preservatives, will be 117 Shaver Street.

Mrs. Stokes, who began her baking business in San Rafael in 1935 before moving to San Anselmo, said she is moving because her premises at 406 San Anselmo Avenue are being taken over by the Wells Fargo Bank-American Trust Co. for expansion purposes.

Legion Speech Contest Set Tomorrow

Marin high school students will compete in a countywide American Legion speech contest tomorrow evening, jointly sponsored by San Anselmo Post 179 and Wilkins Post 37 of San Rafael. The contest will be held at the Legion Log Cabin in San Anselmo, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Participants must each give a 10 to 12-minute prepared speech on the United States constitutional subject selected at random. They are given four minutes to prepare the extemporaneous speech.

A panel of five judges will decide the winner of tomorrow's event, who will then participate in a runoff contest in the five North Bay counties, preparatory to participation in the Northern California, state and national finals.

Co-chairmen J. Otis Brown of San Anselmo and George Silviera of Wilkins Post said the public is invited. Refreshments will be served after the speeches.

Marin Boy Scouts Fete Scouting's 51st Anniversary

The Boy Scouts are 51 years old today.

This is not to say that the boys find their hair turning gray. They're 11, 12 and 13 years old, as usual. But the Boy Scouts of America today celebrates the 51st anniversary of its organization by William D. Boyce, a Chicago publisher who became lost in a London fog, was guided to his hotel by a Boy Scout, and became so interested in the organization he brought it to the United States.

In Marin Boy Scout Council, father-and-son banquets, Cub Scout blue and gold dinners, the B'nai B'rith window display contest and Scout Sunday highlight the anniversary week observance.

Also, noted Carl G. Brown Jr. of Kentfield, council president, the organization's birthday marks the kickoff of the annual sustaining membership drive, which raises money to help keep the Boy Scouts robust at 51.

Final Transit Route To Be Discussed

Directors of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District hope to complete development of final route recommendations for a five-county rapid transit system at a meeting at 2 p.m. tomorrow at 985 Flood Building San Francisco.

Also on the agenda, according to General Manager John M. Peirce, will be the first showing of a new 15-minute sound film-strip — "1970 is Tomorrow" — which is designed to explain the district's program to Bay Area residents.

Recreation Bond Issue Requested

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Twenty-four state senators are seeking a 75-million-dollar bond issue to purchase some of California's fast dwindling recreation lands.

Sen. Ronald G. Cameron (D-Auburn) introduced a bill yesterday to set up the bond issue. There were 24 co-authors.

Cameron also proposes continued use of tidelands oil revenues to permit the Beaches and Parks Division to accomplish its recently announced 150-million-dollar expansion plan within seven years.

"The state must act now to set aside lands for public recreation purposes before those lands have vanished and before the value of recreation land increases to the point where the cost would be prohibitive," Cameron said.

The bond issue is supported by Assemblyman Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles).

VEHICLE CHIEF THINKS PENALTY FOR TARDY FEES IS TOO HIGH

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Motor Vehicle Director Robert McCarthy plans to collect those stiff penalties for late payment of registration fees—but he hates to do it.

The penalty, in case you didn't meet the deadlines of Saturday noon in person or Monday midnight by mail, are 50 per cent of the license fee and 100 per cent of the registration fee.

"It is my opinion," McCarthy wrote the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee yesterday, "that such penalties are excessive and could be reduced without encouraging delinquent payments.

"In brief, I can see no justification for imposing such an oppressive penalty on the automobile owner."

State Senator Lashes Minimum Farm Wage

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The new chairman of the Senate Labor Committee said today he would do anything "short of mayhem" to stop a minimum wage bill for California's farm workers.

Backers of the bill generally conceded Sen. John J. Hollister Jr. (D-Goleta), the chairman, could do it handily—and without resorting to mayhem.

One supporter said he doubted that California could pass any minimum wage legislation at all this year.

The predictions followed President John F. Kennedy's minimum wage proposals to Congress which did not include coverage for agricultural workers.

Sen. Alan Short (D-Stockton) "There is little likelihood legislation can pass unless Gov. Edmund G. Brown chooses to fight for it.

The annual mean temperature in San Francisco is 57°.

Jury Expected To Get Sandoval Trial Tonight

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—The trial of mystery man Jaime Sandoval, charged with moral offenses against two young boys, was expected to go to the jury by tonight.

The defense rested its case yesterday after the 30-year-old former nurse was on the stand just long enough to deny that he molested the sons of a Millbrae couple who died under mysterious circumstances.

Sandoval was charged only with moral offenses against the youngsters, but authorities had hoped trial yesterday might shed some light on the deaths of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Douglas.

The defendant was the only person present last September when Mrs. Douglas allegedly slipped and fell from a low cliff into the ocean off Puerto Rico. Her body was never recovered.

Douglas committed suicide in Marin County eight days later. He left a note saying he had mortgaged his home for $16,000 and loaned the money to Sandoval.

The morals charges carry maximum penalties of life imprisonment.

Postal Worker Jobs Frozen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Postmaster General J. Edward Day has directed a temporary suspension of promotions or other changes in assignments throughout the postal service.

Disclosing this yesterday, the Post Office Department said the action was taken "pending a review of over-all personnel policies."

The freeze affects everyone from clerks up to postmasters.

A spokesman for Day said there will be no lengthy freeze on the approximate 560,000 jobs in the department.

Sausalitans Told About Sister City

Dr. Daniel J. Feldman, associate professor of medicine at Stanford University Medical School, told the Sausalito City Council last night about the Vina Marinos—residents of Sausalito's sister city, Vina del Mar, Chile.

Dr. Feldman, who worked last year in Chile in rehabilitation medicine and spent some time at Vina, said he found the residents a warm people with a deep interest and pride in their sister city relationship.

He said Vina del Mar is much like Sausalito, backed by a series of hills with houses "cut into the hills." The weather is almost identical, he said. "It is an old city, a proud city."

Mrs. M. Justin Herman, program chairman of the Sausalito people-to-people program, gave a report on sister city activities and said Sausalito will hold an anniversary celebration March 4 at 12:15 p.m. at Plaza Vina del Mar in honor of its first year as a sister city to Chilean community.

Vina del Mar, she said, will celebrate Chilean-North American week March 6-12 and would like Sausalito to send either a visitor or an exhibit. Mrs. Herman said the photographic exhibit prepared by Sausalito has been received in Chile, and a tape recording made by Sausalito schools in Spanish, a scrapbook, a photographic story from the Independent-Journal's Marin Magazine, postcards, letters and magazines have been sent to Vina.

Mrs. Herman presented a guest book to the city, which she asked to be kept by City Clerk Amelie Smith, and asked Dr. and Mrs. Feldman to be the first to sign it.

Norridgewock, Me., was established on the site of an old Indian village, also named Norridgewock.

McCovey Good Example Of 'Don't Believe Everything You Read'

CONNOLLY

Judging from all the racket, I thought for sure my Uncle Mike had busted down the front door and was set to cut my heart out for misquoting him or for putting an olive in his Gibson.

I raised my hat from one side of the desk and a white handkerchief from the other, and then crawled out from under. It wasn't Uncle Mike after all. It was my sidekick in sports, Doc Randol, and a rare, raving, ranting mood he was in.

"What's all this tripe I read about Willie McCovey in the Sunday fish wrapper?" he yells, shoving Curley Grieve's byline uncomfortably near my nose.

Stepping back a pace for fresh air and focusing both eyes I read the following quote from the Giants' 1959 Rookie of the Year and 1960 Flop of the Year:

"I'm just not going to listen to advice on hitting this year. I hit on my own all the way up through the minors and in my first year with San Francisco. It was only when I listened to others that I got into trouble."

"That ain't the way I heerd it, and I heerd it from Horace's mouth," yells Doc Randol.

"I WAS there last year when Owner Horace Stoneham announced Willie McCovey was on his way to Tacoma and when he ate out the sports writers for picking on his poor little Giants.

"All the other writers put their tails between their legs and went out to cover the game," continued my bloodhound, Doc Randol. "All but Bucky Walters of the News-Call, Stoneham and me. The press bar happened to be handy so we leaned on it and listened to the Boss as he mellowed.

"A big part of McCovey's failure is my own fault," said Squire Stoneham. "I took the wrinkles out of his belly by paying him too much, too soon. That and stubbornness. McCovey's almost as stubborn as I am."

SIR HORACE continued: "Everyone at Phoenix could see that Willie was in trouble, but he wouldn't take help. Not even from Lefty O'Doul. McCovey told us he was a natural hitter and nobody could teach him anything!"

Doc Randol threw the paper in my wastebasket, saving six seconds of my precious time.

"Who can I believe if I can't believe a sportswriter?" he yells back as he slams the door on his way out.

The answer to that one is simple. You can't believe anyone in this racket.

And if you take the words out of someone's mouth and put them on paper, you're a liar in the next edition.

Once upon a time I wrote a story about the Wilson ball, being used then, in the Coast League. I quoted Walter McCredie, who told me he sent two very promising young pitchers to the Denver club. Soon after they appeared in ball games, the owner wired McCredie complaining.

"I WIRED back," McCredie told me, "if those pitchers can't stop your hitters, then switch to the Wilson ball."

McCredie denied the yarn and when confronted by me and the paper's attorney, whom he didn't know was an attorney, he said:

"Sure I said it," replied Mac, "but I had to deny it or else the Wilson people were going to sue the Coast League."

Does that explain why you see a story one day in one paper and a heated denial the next day in the other rag?

Giants' 1-2 Punch: McCormick, Marichal

By HARRY JUPITER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants expect two of the youngest pitchers in the major leagues to provide their 1-2 mound punch this year.

The youngsters with the big responsibility are southpaw Mike McCormick, 22, and right-hander Juan Marichal, 23.

McCormick, 15-12 last season, was the earned run king of the National League with 2.70. He signed his 1961 contract yesterday for an estimated $25,000, described by Giants Vice-President Chub Feeney as a "very good raise."

Marichal, a poised second-year man from the Dominican Republic, was 6-2 and had a 2.66 ERA, but didn't appear in enough games for eligibility for the title. He joined the Giants after midseason and won his first four starts.

Feeney said he and Alvin Dark, the Giants' new manager, figure on McCormick and Marichal as the nucleus of the pitching staff.

Among the others in the "solid six" are veteran right-handers Sam Jones, Jack Sanford and Stu Miller and southpaw Billy O'Dell.

The big problem is dependable relief pitching and current plans are for Jones, Sanford and O'Dell to also work in relief.

"Relief pitchers are made, not born," said Feeney. "We know Sam can be a fine one. He's shown us. We think Sanford and O'Dell can do double duty too.

"We've been trying to get Larry Jansen for a long time. Now that we've finally got him for our pitching coach, we're hoping he can help us develop a solid bullpen."

One of the fellows who will get especially close attention is Sherman "Roadblock" Jones, a 6-foot-4 right-hander who strung together 10 consecutive relief victories at Tacoma in the Pacific Coast League but was just 1-1 in 16 games with San Francisco.

Hobie Landrith and Bob Schmidt still figure as the Giants' top catchers.

"We made a real pitch for John Blanchard of the Yanks," Feeney said, "but they wouldn't let him go, no matter what we offered.

"But outside of Del Crandall and Ed Bailey, how many outstanding catchers are there? The guys in Los Angeles hit about .209.

"We think our boys are underrated in many ways. Every catcher in the league had a tough time in Candlestick Park last season. Schmidt had just two passed balls all year. And he out-hit Bailey."

Bailey hit .261 with 13 homers and 67 runs knocked in. Schmidt hit .267 with eight home runs and 37 runs batted in. Landrith, a lefty swinger, hit .242 with one homer and 20 RBI.

Marin Quints Win Four Of Five Contests

Four of the five Marin County Athletic League basketball teams in action yesterday scored victories in inter-league practice competition.

The red hot Redwood Giants, the Marin League leaders, blasted Analy of the North Bay League 43-30; Drake eked out a 45-44 win over Montgomery of Santa Rosa, also of the NBL; Novato whipped Tomales 53-41 and Marin Catholic chalked up a 43-26 decision over the College of Marin junior varsity.

Only Marin loser was Tamalpais, 62-44 victim of Palo Alto High.

Redwood led Analy all the way by quarter scores of 14-9, 21-13 and 31-23 as Mike Kavanagh topped the Giants' well-balanced scoring with 10 digits.

Drake overcame a first half deficit to get its slim win over the Vikings. Sam Johnson led the Pirates with 15 points, Bill Collins chipped in 12, including 9 in the second half rush, and Bill Wallace tallied 11.

Soph Arnie Schuck and Joe Colfer each scored 6 points for Novato.

Marin Catholic scored 13 of 17 foul shots en route to its easy win over the COM junior varsity. The Wildcats led 10-1 at the end of the first quarter, 18-9 at half and 30-15 going into the final period. Ed O'Connell of the Cats and Mike Rawitser of the losers each scored 8.

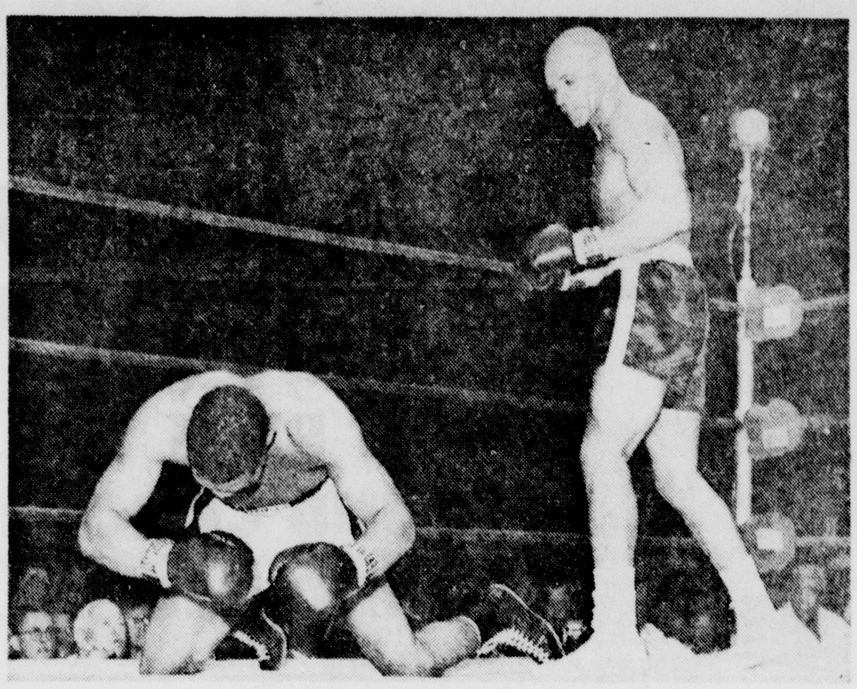
TAMITES FADE

The Tam Indians made a good early showing against Palo Alto, one of the area's top-rated quintets, but faded in the home stretch. Tam held a 13-12 first quarter lead, and trailed by only 31-26 at half. But Palo Alto pulled away to a 46-37 third quarter margin and Tam could never recover. Connie Hoetger scored 17 for Tam while Charles Bullock with 10 points, Norm Kreuter with 9 and Pete Dornbach with 14 rebounds showed well.

In a Bay Counties Athletic League game Concordia blasted San Rafael Military Academy 65-35 as Cadet stars Pete Jackson and Terry Pasqualo were sidelined with the flu. John Rolleri's 14 points led Cadet scorers.

Class B scores: Redwood 41, Analy 38; Palo Alto 33, Tam 31; Montgomery 47, Drake 31; Novato 45, Tomales 34; Concordia 38, S.R. Military 30.

Redwood's Grant Stephenson led all Class B scorers with 18 points.



DOWN AND OUT — Jesse Bowdry pitches forward on the canvas in the ninth round just before fight was stopped and Harold Johnson was declared winner by technical knockout in last night's NBA light heavyweight championship fight in Miami Beach. (AP Wirephoto)

Jensen Signs, Insists He's In Good Shape

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Jackie Jensen is officially back with the Boston Red Sox and now the question is whether he'll pay the same physical penalty for his self-imposed one-year exile that Cincinnati's famed Edd Roush did 30 years ago.

Jensen, who retired after the 1959 season, received an estimated $35,000 to $40,000 in his 1961 pact which was announced yesterday by the Red Sox. The Sox added that he has been working out daily at both squash and badminton at his Nevada home and says that he will be in good physical condition when the team begins spring training at Scottsdale, Ariz., late this month.

The big question with the Red Sox, however, is whether Jensen can recover the form that enabled him to win the American League's most valuable player award in 1958 and to bat .277 with 28 homers and 112 runs batted in in 1959.

The closest similarity to the Jensen case occurred back in 1930 when Roush, a great outfielder for the New York Giants and Reds, "held out" for the entire 1930 season. Roush returned to big league baseball in 1931, but batted only .271 compared to his .324 figure in 1929 and in 1932 called it quits for good.

The San Francisco Giants and Los Angeles Dodgers signed key pitchers in yesterday's other important developments.

Mike McCormick, 22-year-old left-hander, had a 15-12 record and a league-leading 2.70 earned run average last season. A high-bracket bonus baby as an 18-year old in 1956, McCormick is viewed as a potential 20-game winner this year. He pitched four shutouts last season.

Koufax, who on Aug. 31, 1959 tied Bob Feller's modern record of 18 strikeouts in one game, had only an 8-13 record in 1960, but struck out 197 batters in 175 innings. "Wait 'til next season" is still the Dodger cry for this gifted but wild left-hander.

Waves Upset Santa Clara

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pepperdine jolted Santa Clara's already wavering West Coast Athletic Conference basketball hopes last night as the Waves dumped the Broncos 67-56 for their first conference win after seven losses.

In the other WCAC game on the Los Angeles Sports Arena twin bill, front-running Loyola whacked San Jose State 55-46.

In a Far Western Conference game at Davis, San Francisco State beat the Cal Aggies 76-70.

Loyola has now won seven and lost one. Santa Clara has lost its last three and with San Jose is 3-3 in the campaign.

San Jose led the Lions at the half 27-25. Ed Bento totaled 22 points and Jerry Grote 21 for Loyola; Dennis Bates had 20 for San Jose.

Pepperdine and Santa Clara were tied at the half 24-24 but a 63 per cent shooting effort from the floor in the second half wrapped it up for Pepperdine. Included in the hot Wave effort were six for six from the field by Red Hughes.

Novatan Gets Ace At Las Gallinas

Jack Lepinski of Novato used a four wood driving into a strong head wind yesterday to score his first hole-in-one at the Las Gallinas Golf Course three miles north of San Rafael.

Lepinski's ace, witnessed by Don Malnick and Lou Robella of San Rafael, was on the 175-yard seventh hole.

WANTS MOORE

Johnson Unhappy With Half Title

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Harold Johnson is the new National Boxing Assn. world light heavyweight champion, but he still isn't quite happy.

"I don't feel like I'm the champ yet," the usually taciturn Philadelphian said in his dressing room last night after stopping young Jesse Bowdry of St. Louis in the ninth round to win the blessings of the NBA.

"When I beat the old man (Archie Moore) I'll get that feeling."

Moore knocked out Johnson in the 14th round in Johnson's only other shot at the title. The NBA whisked the crown from Moore's furrowed brow when he took an indifferent attitude toward defending it.

The sharp-featured, muscled Johnson has been seeking a return bout since that 1954 kayo, with frustration piling on frustration. Last night he put his frustration to work. Usually a cautious fighter, he suddenly turned tiger.

He put Bowdry on the canvas three times in a classic variety of poses, and after the third knockdown referee Cy Gottfried decided the wobbly, woozy, rubber-legged youth was in no condition to continue.

The end came in 45 seconds of the ninth round. The record crowd of 4,017 which paid a non-record $20,829.50 started whooping.

JOHNSON AN ARTIST

Johnson was the artist; Bowdry the tenacious bulldog making himself a difficult target. The first few rounds were uneventful.

Late in the sixth Bowdry landed a couple of good punches and suddenly became too brave. He drove in again, and was clipped by a left hook. He started to throw another punch, but suddenly fell apart in a delayed action fall. He took a count of nine.

With two seconds to go in the eighth a right and left combination dumped him in a jack-knife pose. He was resting on the back of his neck when the gong sounded.

Johnson was a whirring pinwheel of action as the ninth opened. He threw punches from everywhere, with a solid left to the midsection the clincher. Bowdry went down for the final time, and would have been a sitting duck when he arose had not the referee intervened.

LEGISLATORS APPROVE MARIN FISHING PLAN

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The Senate Fish and Game Committee yesterday approved a request that federal authorities open offshore military areas to commercial and sport fishing.

The proposal would urge the U.S. Interior and Defense departments to consider opening 40 miles of beach near Santa Barbara and areas of San Francisco Bay along the Marin County shore to fishermen.

Sen. Vernon L. Sturgeon, (R-Paso Robles), pointed out that the problem extends to hunting on closed military reservations like Hunter Liggett near King City, which is "overpopulated with deer" and used by the military as a "private reserve."

"If we can't hunt the deer there, they shouldn't be able to either," Sen. John C. Begovich (D-Jackson), said.

Angels Now Have 3 Mound Prospects

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Left-hander Ron Moeller and right-hander Fred Newman, both in the minors last year, are the second and third pitchers to sign with the Los Angeles Angels.

Moeller, 8-8 with Vancouver last season in the Pacific Coast League, was drafted from the Baltimore organization. Newman was 4-10 with Corning in the New York-Pennsylvania League. Moeller is 22, Newman 18.

Eli Grba, formerly with the New York Yankees, was the first pitcher signed by the new American League club.

Five Hamilton Boxers Win In Inter-Service Tourney

Five Hamilton Air Force Base boxers scored victories last night in the opening of Hamilton's annual invitational inter-service tournament.

Dean Harrison of Hamilton, the Air Force welterweight champion in 1957 and 1959 and United States representative in the 1959 Pan-American Games, scored the only clean knockout on the 12-bout card. He stopped Joe Edwards of Travis AFB in the first round.

Other Hamilton winners by decisions were Arthur Jones, 119 pounds, over Leonard Lopez of Camp Pendleton Marines; Alfred Pena, 125, over Ronald Cull of Fort Lewis, Wash.; Johnny Hampton, 165, over Robert Dunlap, of Ft. Lewis; and C. E. Foster, 200, over Oscar Exum of the USS Ranger.

Three Hamilton fighters lost decisions. They were Clemon Maddox, to Ernie Garcia of Camp Pendleton; Alfred Polaco, to C. G. Bell of Pendleton; and George Leach, to Joe Clark, also of Pendleton.

The Pendleton Marines walked off with a majority of honors with six victories and only one loss.

There were two technical knockouts. Andy Kendall of Camp Pendleton stopped Ed Griffin of Edwards AFB in the second round and Al Thompson of Ft. Lewis stopped Earl Whisenhunt of the San Francisco Presidio.

Competition continues tonight and tomorrow night.

Lakers In Market For Big Center; Eye AAU Stars

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers, who might have been right in the thick of the fight for the National Basketball Assn. title were they stronger at center, are shopping for a big man.

"They're looking in this land of slot machines and gaming tables, but only because the AAU basket-ball tournament is here.

The Lakers intend to follow three men very closely — Jim Hagan, 6-10, from Tennessee Tech and Wally Frank, 6-8, from Kansas State, both with the Phillips 66 team, and Jim Francis, 6-9, Akron center.

Laker Coach Fred Schaus, General Manager Lou Mohs and publicist Gil Smith are on the scouting mission here. If Francis impresses enough he may finish this season out with the Lakers, who play host tonight to the St. Louis Hawks, leaders of the Western Division of the NBA.

He was Richard Chapman.

Winter Notes From Dodger Office Not Support Club's 1960 Standing

HANLEY

Red Patterson, publicity chief of the Los Angeles Dodgers, has compiled a sheaf of winter notes that makes you wonder why the Dodgers finished fourth last season instead of on top.

Team batting averages against Dodger pitching in 1960: St. Louis, .256; Milwaukee, .241; San Francisco, .240; Pittsburgh, .233; Chicago, .225; Phildelphia, .224 and Cincinnati, .217. How come those Reds give the Dodgers so many problems?

The Dodgers were the only team in the majors which did not drop a doubleheader last season. They swept four and split three. The Dodgers of '60 tied Cincinnati for N.L. grand slammers—at six. Frank Howard hit two and Tommy Davis, Wally Moon, Norm Sherry and John Roseboro one each.

For two seasons the Dodgers have been tops in sacrifice bunts, 100 in '59, 102 in '60. Both times the Pirates were runners-up, 77 in '59, 69 in '60. And the Dodgers, who will have more speed in 1961, already have led the N.L. in stolen bases three straight seasons.

At one time last season Stan Williams' pitching record was 12 and 6, and five of those six losses were charged against him because the Dodgers ran into shutouts. In the sixth loss the Dodgers got him two runs which were not enough. What if they start hitting this year?

DON DRYSDALE fanned 246 and Sandy Koufax whiffed 197 last season, first time any team boasted one-two in this department since Dazzy Vance and Burleigh Grimes led the strikeout parade for Brooklyn in 1924.

Yet Drysdale wound up with a 15-14 record despite his second successive season in which he led the majors in strikeouts. And Koufax finished with a 8-13 mark even though no pitcher was tougher to hit. He gave up only 133 hits in 175 innings, a combined batting average of .207 against him.

Throughout his winter research, Patterson accentuated the positive but overlooked Roseboro's disappointing .213 batting, Charlie Neal's .256, Junior Gilliam's .248 and Gil Hodges' almost unbelievable .198.

NORM LARKER'S .323, just two points behind Dick Groat's leading mark of .325, was the one bright spot in Dodger batting last season although Wally Moon's .299 and Maury Wills' .295 were most creditable.

The Dodgers hope their new batch of rookies will give Drysdale, Koufax, Williams, Podres, Sherry, Craig and Roebuck the kind of batting support in 1961 they didn't get in '60. If they do, look out for the Dodgers.

Spring And Baseball Tryouts To Affect Mill Valley Soon

Spring in the air meant only one thing for some 600 Mill Valley boys this week—Little League baseball season would be along in a moment.

Logan McFadden, president of the Mill Valley National Little League, has announced that sign-ups for boys wanting to play on National League teams will be held the next two Saturday mornings.

The boys can sign up at Park School from 9 to 11 a.m., McFadden said. Each boy must be accompanied by a parent, and must have a birth certificate showing he is at least eight years old and will not be 13 before July 31.

Boys eligible for the National League are those living in the eastern half of Mill Valley, including the Alto area. The American League, for boys living on the other side of Miller Avenue, is also expected to announce sign-ups soon.

"We had more than 250 boys in the National League alone last year, and we're expecting over 300 this year. That means we're going to have to add to the 14 teams we fielded last year," said McFadden.

George Wickham, player agent for the National League, said that try-outs are scheduled for boys who have never played on a major league team February 25 and and March 4 at Boyle Field.

(In Little League, teams are divided into major league teams, for more experience and accomplished boys, and minor league teams, for the beginners and less adept.)

Other officers of the National League include Charles Hunter, first vice president; Bud Ortman, vice president in charge of minor league teams; Mrs. James Biber, vice president in charge of women's activities; Mrs. Robert Nelson, secretary; and Mrs. John B. Myers, treasurer.

CALL UMPIRE 'ROBBER' MAY HIT HOME

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Shouts of "robber, thief, kill the umpire" may not be tactful at some future baseball games.

The National Baseball Congress said today that baseball had been adopted in a rehabilitation movement at the Louisiana State Penitentiary at Angola, La., and that the prison has received a charter for training inmates as baseball umpires as a career.

Patterson Prefers Horror Films Of First Ingo Bout

SPRING VALLEY, N. Y. (AP)—Floyd Patterson must prefer horror movies to happy endings. The world heavyweight boxing champion watches the films of his first fight with Ingemar Johansson—not the second.

As Patterson was knocked down seven times in the first fight when he lost his title, and flattened Ingo the second time, it seemed like a strange choice.

"The first fight is when I made the mistakes," explained Patterson to newsmen visiting his training quarters at a country club.

Did Patterson expect to abandon his peek-a-boo style?

"I don't think so," he said. "Did you think I did in the workout? I was trying different things. But in an actual fight, I would have my hands back up there."

Patterson's peek-a-boo style, in which he holds both hands high to block off head punches, has been criticized by many.

Patterson, who plans to leave for a Florida camp next Tuesday, said he weighed 196 "about a week ago" when he last stepped on the scales. That is six more than he weighed for his second fight with Johansson last June.

"I am not trying for any particular weight," he said. "Whatever comes is all right with me. I like to work with heavy sweat pants. Before other fights they were afraid I would take off too much weight so I boxed in trunks only. But this time I have weight to spare."

Patterson boxed four rounds yesterday in training for his March 13 third fight with the Swede in Miami Beach. He didn't over-exert himself against his sparmates, Wilson Hannibal and the champ's 18-year-old brother, Ray, who is competing in the Golden Gloves as a heavyweight.

Fights Last Night

MIAMI BEACH—Harold Johnson, 172, Philadelphia, stopped Jesse Bowdry, 172, St. Louis, 9 (Johnson wins NBA version of world light heavyweight title).

HOUSTON—Cleveland Williams, 208, Houston, outpointed Wayne Bethea, 203, New York, 10.

YUMA, Ariz.—Dave Rent, 190, Liverpool, England, knocked out Claude Hodgins, 184, Los Angeles, 1.

TRENTON, N.J.—Tom Lowery, 129½, Philadelphia, stopped Tommy Goff, 133½, Trenton, 3.

LEAD LOST

U.S. Olympic Cagers Face Low Prestige

By DICK HARNETT

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The United States, which invented basketball, has already lost international leadership in the game, and the 1964 Olympics could be "very rough" on our cage prestige, Olympic coach Pete Newell said today.

The power looming on the basketball horizon is the same one we see everywhere else—the U.S.S.R.

The Russians obviously are gearing themselves right now for the 1964 Olympics," Newell said. "They are dedicated to bringing their caliber up to and beyond ours. They want to beat us at the only American game in the Olympics."

U.S. CAN'T BE SURE

Newell, who coached the U.S. team to an 81-57 semi-final victory over Russia last year, said the Russians will certainly be better next time. And, he said, the U.S. can't be sure of having an outstanding crop of players like Oscar Robertson, Jerry Lucas, Darral Imhoff, Jerry West and Bob Boozer.

The U.S. will have to pick its "best" team if it wants to win the 1964 basketball Olympics, he said. "The selection system in the past has sometimes come up with an unbalanced team because we were more apt to take the players by name." He said the Russians sent to Rome a group of players who were chosen as a team.

"The Russians play basketball 10 or 11 months a year," Newell said, "and were surprised to learn we only play from December to March."

But the thing that will make it tough to maintain U.S. basketball domination in the Olympics is the fact that "the game here is drifting away from the international game," he said.

RULES DIFFER

"The international rules are far enough from ours now, and by 1964 the rest of the world may be playing completely different from the way we play."

He said this was because the U.S. "hasn't ever taken the international leadership we should. We have allowed other countries to take the lead which we, as the veterans of the game, should hold."

Newell said Europeans "Don't get much chance to see the game as we play it. What they do see," he said, "is the Russian game."

"If we sponsored basketball trips like we sponsor track tours, we would give people in other countries an opportunity to observe our style. If we sent teams around we could explain our game and show them our way."

WARNING ISSUED

Newell, now athletic director at the University of California, made his comments in an interview follow-up to a warning issued by Olympic track star Bob Mathias at the Northern California Basketball Writers Luncheon yesterday.

Mathias said Russia might beat the U.S. in basketball at the 1964 games unless "we can keep up the interest in the sport" and work out a system to send a team that is chosen because it is the best team and not one "formed with the idea of keeping everybody happy."

Ray To Complete Drills At Swank Las Vegas Hotel

SAN JACINTO (UPI)—A secluded country training site may be just the place for some boxers to prepare for a middleweight title fight, but not for Sugar Ray Robinson.

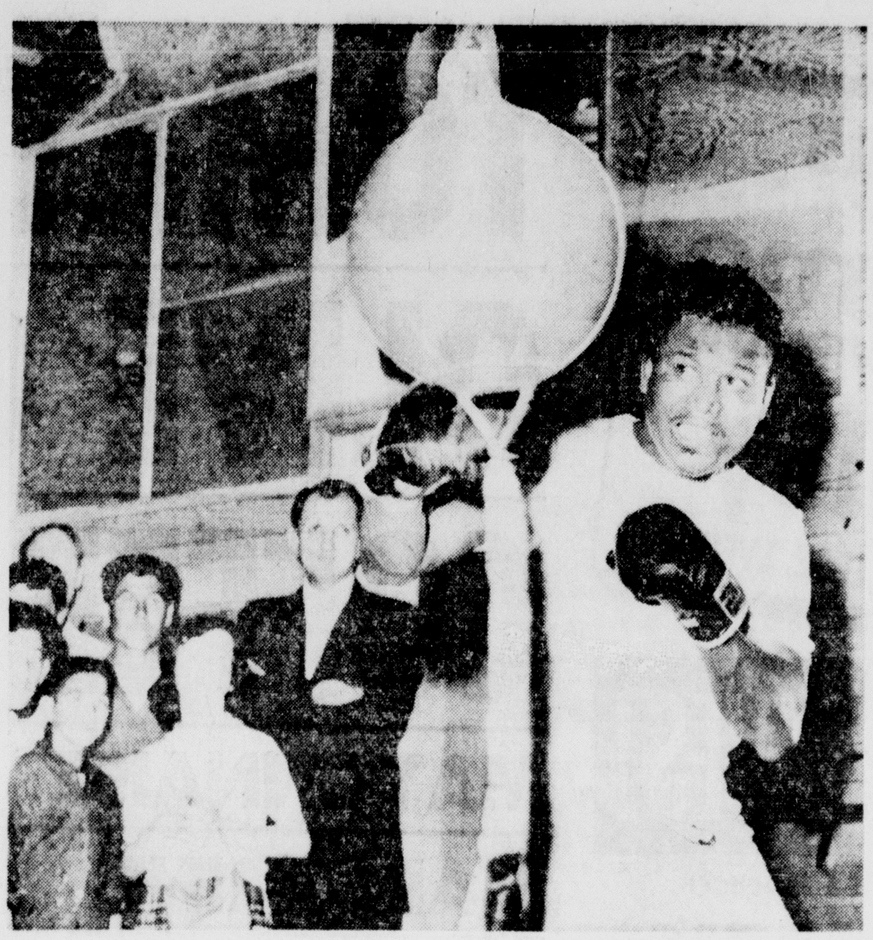
The sugar man yesterday announced he will spend his final week of training for the March 4 Las Vegas, Nev., battle with Champion Gene Fullmer in the gambling city's swank Dunes Hotel convention hall which seats 1,000 persons.

Moreover, the workouts will be public, he said.

Robinson said he already has arranged with Dunes President Major Riddle to start training there Feb. 25. His roadwork will be done on the desert behind the hotel.

The aging boxer planned to work five rounds today, three with sparring mate Otis Woodard and two against Bobby Lee of Los Angeles. He went three rounds yesterday with woodard.

Robinson said he plans to take three sparring partners to Las Vegas.



SUGAR'S FIRST DAY WORKOUT

Sugar Ray Robinson works out in San Jacinto, Riverside County, on the "up and down" bag in his first public workout in preparation for his March 4th title fight with Gene Fullmer in Las Vegas, Nev. Some of the 400 spectators who watched Robinson's first day workout are at left. A camp spokesman said about 800 people were turned away because the gym can only accommodate 400 spectators. 'MIDWEEK MEDLEY'

Battle Of Supremacy Among Cubs Coaches

By HAL WOODS

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Midweek medley:

There is a battle for supremacy going on between the eight coaches Phil Wrigley has hired to run the Chicago Cubs this year.

The contest is under way right now at the spring training camp of the club at nearby Mesa. Charley Grimm is the man with the managerial background and he apparently is the man who finally will decide which of the other seven is best qualified to run the team. Best bet: El Tappe . . .

EX-PRESIDENT Eisenhower had been invited to take part in the pro-am golf competition today at the Arizona Country Club—prelude to the start of the Phoenix Open tomorrow. But storms in the east delayed his arrival for his vacation at Palm Springs and ruined the sponsoring Thunderbird Club's hopes of obtaining the world's No. 1 golfer . . . They'll have to settle for the likes of Arnold Palmer, Gary Player, Ken Venturi, Bob Goalby, Tommy Bolt and Jack Fleck . . .

AFTER THE rich five-tournament California tour, during which the golfers took out more than $275,000 (including Don January's $50,000 for a hole-in-one), some of the pros have taken off for other cities. George Bayer, hitting the ball longer than ever, has gone to Hong Kong. Billy Maxwell, winner of the Rich Palm Springs Desert Classic, has left for the Carribean tour . . .

THE NEW Houston club of the National Baseball League has signed a three-year contract to train at Apache Junction, about 30 miles from Phoenix. It will be staying at the Superstition Hotel—which is near the Lost Dutchman Mine, fabled in story and song of the old west. Also handy: a new dog-racing track . . .

DIZZY DEAN, the ex-pitching great of the old St. Louis Cardinals, has recovered from an eye operation. He'll be making his first public appearance in a long time in a golf tournament today . . .

BILLY MAXWELL explained how he happened to win the $50,000 Palm Springs Golf Classic—after having failed to win a single tourney since May of 1958:

"I just found out that if I'm going to win a tournament," said Billy, "it has to be 90 holes, likes this one. Those little, ol' 72-hole affairs are too short for me."

Several of their recipes include:

S'PRISES

⅔ c shortening
1¾ c sugar
2⅔ c all purpose flour
3½ t baking powder
¾ t salt
1⅓ c skim milk
2 t vanilla
4 egg whites (½c) stiffly beaten
6 Camp Fire Mints (cut into small pieces) chopped fine.

Cream until fluffy the shortening and sugar. Sift together the dry ingredients and stir in alternately with milk and vanilla. Fold in egg whites and mint pieces. Fill cupcake papers ⅔ full and bake at 350 degrees 15-20 minutes. Sprinkle with sifted powdered sugar while still warm. NOTE: A commercial white cake mix may be substituted.

DELISHMINTY COOKIES

1 c shortening
½ c sugar
½ cup brown sugar
2 eggs
2¾ c sifted all purpose flour
½ t soda
1 t salt
1½ t vanilla
6 Camp Fire Mints (melted)

Mix together the shortening, sugars and eggs until creamy. Sift dry ingredients and stir in. Add vanilla and melted mints and blend well. Press into 2½" roll, wrap in waxed paper and refrigerate until stiff. Cut ⅛" slices and bake on ungreased baking sheet 6 to 8 minutes in a 400 degree oven.

SHAKE O'MINT

Blend together ½ c cold milk, ⅓ T chocolate syrup and 2 Camp Fire Mints in a blender (a must) until smooth. Add 3 or 4 scoops of chocolate or vanilla ice cream and blend 5 seconds more.

MINT CHIFFON PIE

3 Camp Fire Mints
3 T cocoa
1 envelope unflavored gelatine
1 c sugar
4 eggs—separated
¼ t salt

Soften gelatine in ¼ c water. Put ½ c cold water in top of double boiler and add mints and cocoa. When dissolved add ½ c sugar, egg yolks, slightly beaten, and salt. Cook until custard consistency, stirring constantly. Add softened gelatin to hot custard and dissolve. Cool, add vanilla. When it begans to thicken, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites to which remaining ½ c sugar has been added. Fill baked pie shell or graham cracker crust and chill. Just before serving, a layer of whipped cream may be spread over the pie.

CAMP FIRE ELVES

6 Camp Mints
⅓ c shortening
1 c sugar
2 eggs
¾ c sifted all purpose flour
½ t baking powder
½ t salt
½ c broken nuts

Melt mints and shortening together over hot water. Beat in the sugar and eggs, then stir in sifted dry ingredients. Add nuts. Spread in 8" square pan and bake 30-35 minutes at 350 degrees. Cut into 16 squares.

2¼ c milk
½ c sugar
3 Camp Fire Mints
¼ lb. marshmallows (11-16), cut up
¼ c ground nuts, if desired
2 egg whites, beaten stiff
1 c whipping cream, whipped stiff.

Soften gelatin in ¼ c milk. Heat remaining 2 c milk, sugar and mints in sauce pan. Beat with rotary beater and remove from heat. Add gelatine and beat until smooth. Chill until mixture begins to set then stir in marshmallows and nuts and fold in the egg whites and whipping cream. Chill 4 hours and serve in sherbet glasses.

Melt shortening in water. Add flour and salt all at once and stir vigorously; cook, stirring constantly, until mixture forms ball that does not separate. Remove from heat and cool slightly. Add eggs one at a time, beating vigorously after each addition until mixture is smooth. Drop by ½ teaspoons onto greased baking sheet. Bake in 450 degree oven 10 minutes and then in moderate oven (325F) 15 minutes. Remove to rack immediately and cool. Cut side of each puff and fill with pudding and eat with fingers.

WILLIAM KNOWLAND SPEAKER AT LINCOLN DAY LUNCHEON

William F. Knowland, former United States senator, who was elected minority leader of the Senate in 1955 and served in that capacity until his retirement from the Senate in January of 1959, will be the featured speaker at the annual Lincoln Day luncheon of Marin Unit of Pro America. For the luncheon, to be held on Monday, Feb. 13, at Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera, Knowland has chosen as his subject, "The Challenges Confronting Us."

Knowland is an able speaker and one exceptionally well informed on problems which the United States now faces. Men as well as women are invited to the luncheon. Reservations must be made before Friday with Mesdames Volney E. Howard, Elie Dalmon, M. J. Walsh and Boyd C. Lindsay.

Mrs. W. T. Cleverdon Jr., general chairman of the luncheon, is being assisted by Mesdames Robert Tuckey and Henry Picard, decorations and Paul R. Ciampi and Elie Dalmon, reservations. At the door will be Mesdames John Loutzenheiser, Glenn W. Anderson, John Pershing and Fred D. Turner, hostesses. Mrs. Sylvester McAtee is in charge of the head table. Honorary directors and past presidents of Marin Unit will join Mrs. William V. Lynch, president, in the receiving line.

Delta Gamma Alumnae Plan Night At Tiburon Playhouse

An innovation in the annual fund raising project of the Delta Gamma Alumnae Association in Marin this month will be the inclusion of husbands and escorts. In previous years the group has sponsored a fashion show-luncheon for its philanthropy of aid to the blind.

An evening event on Friday, Feb. 24 will be "Delta Gamma Night" at the Cove Players' opening production of "Portrait in Black," at the Tiburon Playhouse.

On the national level Delta Gammas in the United States and Canada have worked diligently for years in a multitude of endeavors encompassing sight conservation and aid to the blind—educational grants and loans—and international education. Locally, the Marin alumnae will use funds raised by the play for two separate works, one being the "Ivan Fund." Ivan is a seven year old San Francisco blind boy whose short life was spent being moved from foster home to foster home—to the very serious detriment of his well-being. Two years ago Bay Area Delta Gammas joined in an effort to assist the boy, assuming full responsibility for his every need, and his progress has been astonishing. When this child's rehabilitation is complete another similarly handicapped youngster will be "adopted" and it is anticipated the program will continue permanently, with different children.

The second philanthropy to receive funds from the benefit will be Marin's own Guide Dogs for the Blind, which for many years has been the recipient of a substantial contribution from the Delta Gammas in the county.

Play reservations may be made with Mrs. Albert Bianchi in Mill Valley.

Park P-TA Meeting

"Special Education Today and Tomorrow in Marin County" is the subject of a talk to be given at the Feb. 14 meeting of Mill Valley's Park School P-TA.

The speaker, Daryl Hopkins, will be assisted by Morrison Gardner. The meeting will start at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the school.

Since this is Founders' Day for the P-TA, special invitations are being issued to all past presidents of Park P-TA.

Easter Egg Hunt, Fair Dates Listed

Dates for the sixth annual Egg Hunt and Easter Fair sponsored by Pixie Parents at the Marin Art and Garden Center have been set for Wednesday and Thursday mornings, March 22 and 23.

Plans for the popular Marin event for pre-school and kindergarten children were made at a recent organizational meeting at the home of events chairman Mrs. Doris Lowe. Egg hunt coordinator Mrs. Robert H. Berry outlined progress to the other chairmen attending.

Familiar events such as egg hunting, story telling, sketching, pet show, clowns and bunny guides have again been scheduled and innovations this year include a fishing pond under the direction of Mrs. Robert Allport and a food booth serving sandwiches, doughnuts, coffee and milk, with Mrs. Henry Whittier serving as chairman.

Dick Ford will present a special show in the Barn featuring creative dance with audience participation.

Over 6000 eggs will be dyed for the event. Children will also have the opportunity of finding surprises like candy eggs and chocolate bunnies.

Most Pixie Parents members will be participating in the Easter Fair. Chairmen include the Mesdames Jerry Mathis, Frank Adamson, James Eschen, Jerrol Flood, John Blakney, Merritt Robinson, Edward Bilieri, Herbert Grimbley, Kenneth Duncan, A. H. Angelini, George Cobb, Sage Morris, James Farley, and Dan Dougherty.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Les Vogel Jr. in Kentfield.

Verena Dee Weds James J. Bechtold

Residing in Mill Valley following their recent marriage at the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel in Mill Valley are Airman 2/c James J. Bechtold and his bride, the former Verena Dee.

Only intimate friends and relatives were present for the 6 p.m. ceremony performed by the Rev. William J. Boyle.

When the bride was given in marriage by her stepfather, John J. O'Brien of Mill Valley, she was wearing a champagne brocade jacket dress with copper colored velvet hat with veil and gloves in a matching shade. Talisman roses and white carnations formed her corsage.

The maid of honor, Judy Buggey of Mill Valley was attired in a gray sheath and matching satin hat, and her corsage was of red carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. O'Brien wore an ice blue cocktail dress with jacket, a black velvet cap with veil and a gardenia corsage.

Best man for the bridegroom, the son of Mrs. H. M. Bechtold of Minneapolis, Minn., who was unable to be present, was Airman 2/c Frank Gramelsprocher. George King of Mill Valley served as altar boy.

Following the nuptials a reception for the 35 guests was held at the O'Brien's home. On the bride's table stood a three tiered cake decorated on top with miniature bride and bridegroom.

The newlyweds spent a brief honeymoon in San Francisco.

The new Mrs. Bechtold expects to graduate from Tamalpais High School in June. She has five younger sisters, Lind, Deborah, Nonelie, Bette and Naomi.

After graduating from high school in Minneapolis, James spent a year and a half with the U.S. Air Force in Morocco and is now stationed on Mount Tamalpais with the 666th Air Control and Warning Squadron.

Diane Byard Sets Date For Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Byard III of Mill Valley have announced the engagement of their daughter, Diane Byard, to Albert Charles Weitz of Corte Madera.

The bride-elect is in her junior year at the University of California at Santa Barbara and is a graduate of Tamalpais High School and the College of Marin. She has three sisters, April, Robin and Kendall.

Diane's fiance is the son of Mrs. Laura Whiting of Corte Madera and the late Albert Charles Weitz. His sister is Mrs. David Brown of London, England.

Albert was graduate from Sir Francis Drake High School and served two years with the U.S. Navy. He is in his second year at the College of Marin.

The young couple has set June 18, the 40th wedding anniversary of Diane's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Byard Jr. of Mill Valley, as the date for their own marriage.

Marin Women

A Light-Hearted Approach To Valentines This Year

KANSAS CITY (UPI)—There's a light-hearted approach to Valentines this year that won't cause any bashful he-man to blush at efforts to tell his favorite girl that she is his one and only.

That doesn't mean that serious greetings of love and affection have been swept by the wayside. But the variety of Valentines—both in fanciful design and wording — has increased to such an extent that a man needn't be reduced to a blubbering shambles when expressing his sentiments.

There's a stylized design, for instance, that says "Je Vous Aime" (French for "I Love You") on the cover and inside adds "Like Crazy."

Another folds out vertically in three panels to show a long, lean cowboy and a caption that reads, "I'm head . . .

"Over Heels . . .

"Over you."

So beautiful were these cards that even the modern miss finds them attractive. They're available this year in the new heirloom series of ornate three-dimensional cards introduced by Hallmark.

Cut in intricate patterns and unfolding to reveal their beauty, the cards feature the pastel beauty of red, pink and gold hearts, subtle blues and reds and angelic cherubs inspired by the rare Victorian originals.

Erudite teenagers also will find cards that speak the language of youth instead of the sweet sentiment of years gone by. New Valentines, designed especially for the younger set, dig the jazz that puts the world in orbit, man. One such card includes several self-adhering labels with captions such as, "We're too young to be Valentines, so let's get married!"

"You need a good head on your shoulders . . . How bout mine?" another label asks. Others: "I'm in orbit," "Let's cut out," "You're way out," "Like wow," "I dig you," "Could I mooch a smooch," and "Hey, have a heart . . . mine!"

Gone are the dead serious avowals of many, many years ago which could be considered nothing short of proposals of marriage. Gone too are messages of endearment which reached their peak of popularity in the 1880s, and it wouldn't take a determined bachelor to tell you why they aren't around anymore.

Decorative Arts Section To Meet

"Creativity in the Classroom" will be the topic presented by Mrs. Benjamin Grunbaum, first grade teacher at Henry C. Hall School in Larkspur, when she speaks to her fellow members in the Decorative Arts section, American Association of University Women, Marin branch.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 15, at the home of Mrs. Robert L. Flanders in Sleepy Hollow.

Mrs. Krieg Vezie is chairman of the Decorative Arts section.

FUN WITH FOOD AND HELPFUL HINTS

Valentine's Day brings parties galore, and if you are giving one, LINDSAY Ripe Olives will be your best ally. Dunk these rich olives in garlic-flavored olive oil for an hour. Offer them chilled and glossy, with celery curls and cheese slivers. Serving creamed chicken or crab? Add a dash of curry and a handful of LINDSAY Ripe Olives, sliced, to the sauce.

Food is fun when you can chew it, as thousands of little teeth, working on GERBER Junior Foods, testify. GERBER'S big variety of vegetables, meats, fruits, makes every meal an adventure for a toddler. GERBER Junior Foods now carry a red "Shop-Easy" label, to identify the product, and to differentiate from the blue Strained Foods can.

Want to surprise a small boy on Valentine's Day? Bake a one-layer cake and cut it into the shape of a heart. Ice with pink frosting (Schilling's food coloring) and write a Valentine message in thin chocolate script. The cake? A light, delicate one, made with a mix or your own recipe, and flavored (this is important) with SCHILLING'S true Vanilla or Almond Extract.

What did women do before waxed paper was invented? Every time I reach for a square of WAX-TEX, I'm glad I never knew! It is so easy to sift flour on WAX-TEX then to lift the paper and swirl the flour back into the sifter; to wrap cheese, meats, cakes, lemon-halves in it for storage. And WAX-TEX lasts and lasts! There are 100 12-inch squares in each roll.

★ Dog and cat hairs on upholstery can be removed by a gentle patting over the surfaces with dampened sandpaper.

Winter salads call for dressings with tang and color. This Thousand Island has so much authority it needs only the simplest greens or vegetables. I like it on Iceberg lettuce. Mix 2 cups mayonnaise, ½ tsp. dry mustard, ½ cup chopped onion, ½ cup chopped green pepper, ⅓ cup pickle relish, and 1½ cups HEINZ Ketchup. Blend well, use immediately.

Tuna-Hearts will tickle the fancy of small fry and please guests. Butter six slices bread and cut each of six other slices into a big heart-shape. Combine WHITE STAR Tuna, chopped hard-cooked eggs and chopped pickle. Spread on buttered slices, cover with cheese, top with the hearts. Bake at 325° until cheese melts; serve with sauce of cream of asparagus soup.

When I am planning a dinner the name "C & W" in the frozen food compartment is a cheer . . . I know that C & W Green Beans, Peas, Squash and other vegetables will be crisp and fresh-tasting, and that the fruits will be flavorful and firm. Here's a fast dessert: Simply place C & W Frozen Peaches in a parfait glass, with layers of whipped cream or ice cream. Top with a cherry, serve!

If you have a new baby, you know that keeping diapers white, sweet and sanitary is a problem in winter. With PUREX Liquid Bleach, it's easy . . . diapers laundered by the PUREX method are snowy clean, sweet-smelling. PUREX is a bleach and a cleanser and also a disinfectant and deodorant. Follow the label directions, rinse thoroughly; baby's delicate skin will be safe.

That's all for now! See you next week! Bonnie Hubbard

THE QUESTION AS to who will be the recipient of the Henry Hall P-TA's Honorary Life Membership will be answered on Feb. 15 when the group stages a Founders' Day Salad Luncheon in the Multi-use room of the Larkspur School. Shown from left are Mesdames Myron Kaplan, P-TA president and Arthur Storhaug, vice president.

Redwood Fuchsia Society Now Redwood Shade Garden Club

The newly re-named Redwood Shade Garden Club, formerly known as the Redwood Fuchsia Society, will meet Friday at 8 p.m. in Whittaker Hall, St. Stephens, Belvedere.

Guest speaker will be Edward W. Johnson, president of the San Francisco Business Men's Garden Club and past president of the Redwood Fuchsia Society. His subject will be "Let's Consider Ferns."

As the Redwood Fuchsia Society the club was organized in 1957 to share knowledge of fuchsia care and culture among all interested fuchsia fanciers in Marin County. The success of the group can be counted in the many top prizes won at the Marin Art and Garden Show in Ross and the Sonoma-Marin Fair at Petaluma.

In 1958 th society presented a "Sweet Leilani" hanging basket of fuchsia to the captain of the S.S. Leilani, which was then making regular trips to the Hawaiian Islands.

In recent months members have been considering expanding their activities to include shade loving plants associated with fuchsias. It was generally agreed that programs covering azaleas, rhododendrons, ferns, camellias, begonias and their companion plants would give greater scope to the club and thus provide more varied work sessions.

The new name was chosen at the last meeting of the club.

Friday's meeting will start promptly at 8 o'clock with award of a prize, according to President George Coleman. Following Johnson's discussion a plant table with specimens of ferns and fuchsias will be available, and refreshments will be served.

An added feature will be "What to do this month in the garden." New members and guests are welcomed.

Leah Daveler Bride At Larkspur Rites

Redwoods Presbyterian Church in Larkspur was the setting for the wedding of Leah Daveler and Albert F. Anderson on Saturday afternoon. Rev. Wayne Hanson officiated at the double ring ceremony. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lesly Arthur Develer of Larkspur was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor length gown of white embroidered silk organza over white satin. It was designed with a square neckline, fitted bodice and short sleeves. A large butterfly bow was at back of the full skirt. The bride wore embroidered white mitts and a seed pearl coronet held her veil. White bouvardia and lilies of the valley were in her cascade bouquet.

Ruth Daveler, who was her sister's maid of honor, wore a blue and lavender flowered silk print with a lavender organza overskirt. Her bandeau was lavender and she carried a nosegay of violets.

A cousin of the bride, Judy Thompson of Mill Valley, the bridesmaid wore a jasmine flowered print with a jasmine organza overskirt, the same color as her bandeau. Tangerine carnations were in her bouquet.

Ronald Wollan of San Rafael was best man and Bill Rees of Napa was the usher.

Mrs. J. R. Witt was organist for the ceremony and Miss Gloria sang "O, Promise Me" and "Oh Perfect Love."

A reception in the social hall of the church followed the wedding. The bride's 10 year old brother Mark, and Suzanne Huckaby distributed the small white bags of rice to the wedding guests. The three tiered wedding cake was topped with white baby roses.

The bride's mother wore a red silk dress and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. John Harris of Napa, wore a green silk print. Both mothers had corsages of white camellias.

The newlyweds, who are on a honeymoon trip north will live in Yuma, Ariz. The bridegroom is in the Army and stationed at the Yuma Test Station. He has two sisters, Marcia Anderson and Doreen Harris, both of Napa. Maternal grandparents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lindsey of Fairfax.

Robalene Meacham was the featured piano soloist at a recent meeting of the Marin Music Teachers Assn., held at the Corte Madera studio of Lucile Zentner.

In addition to her teaching, Mrs. Meacham is a piano soloist, having just recently played in a joint recital with Jean Mattos McGuire, cellist. She has also been heard with the Marin Arts Quartet, of which her husband, Charles Meacham, principal second violinist with the San Francisco Symphony, is the director. Mrs. Meacham, in her second term as president of the MTA, is also a counselor for the Marin Junior Music Club.

Her program consisted of selections from Prokofieff's "Visions Fugitive," "Schumann's Carnaval" and the Rachmaninoff transcription of the Kriesler "Libesleid."

Mrs. Kitty Oppenheimer, well-known radio personality in Marin, also appeared before the club to discuss the Marin Music Chest scholarships.

Square Dance Jamboree Is Well Attended

The Marin County Square Dance Association was host to 16 squares of dancers Saturday night at Isabel Cook School, and the novice dancers had one of their best nights to date. For three hours, gaiety reigned, with calling of Sparky Sparks setting the pace.

In addition to the local beginners, a group of new dancers from Guerneville attended. Some five local clubs were represented, with Circle O Promenaders as official sponsors of the party. Clubs from Petaluma and Santa Rosa were represented by a sizeable contingent of dancers.

The committee was headed by Susie and Ed Moore for the Beginners' Class, with the help of Gil and Berneice Cooke, and Helen and Bill Newlon. Circle O Promenaders were represented by Marie and Lyle Lang at the door, and Jimmy Grungen, Frances Dyer and Helen and Ed Russell in the kitchen. The Moore's Valentine decorations were effective.

Dancers are reminded that the Graduation Party for the class will be on Saturday, Feb. 18. All beginners are invited, and a big turnout by members of various clubs is expected.

A change-of-command ceremony preceded luncheon Friday at the Meadow Club in Fairfax, when the Mannequin League of Marin elected new officers.

Invitations chairman is Mrs. H. V. Gundry, Greenbrae, and reservations are made with Mrs. Sherman C. Little, Jr., of Kentfield and Mrs. Peter M. Phelps of Kentfield.

Be Proud Of Marin Youths At Model Legislature

Marin County may well be proud of the way our youth represented us last weekend at the YMCA's 13th annual model legislature.

This time Marin was more than usual in the spotlight. The youth governor was a Marin boy, Terry Wade of Greenbrae. He won the title after an election campaign and assumed the office with seriousness and dedication.

The model legislature is no game those 16, 17 and 18 year old men and women were playing. Even though some of them might have gone to Sacramento as a lark, before they had completed their three day experience, they were seriously involved in the democratic process; they learned much more about how a republican form of government works than most adults ever know.

True, there were fun times. The Marin delegates were thrilled to be involved in a national TV chain's films —to be incorporated into a report on youth. There was fun at the Governor's Ball and there were many other social and informal events.

Yet the part which will remain with all those 360 boys and girls long after other memories fade, will be the recollection of how laws are made, the problems, compromising, arguing and maneuvering which in fact go into the legislative process.

A blind member of the audience during committee hearings and floor debates, might have had trouble determining whether he was listening to the model legislature or the real one. Sometimes those kids used arguments, parliamentary maneuvers, the rules and every other device like adults do. At other times, they weren't quite up to these standards, but sometimes the regular legislators act like children, too.

Governor Wade concluded his final address to the closing session of the legislature in words which sum up the general attitude. He said:

"Although we have worked hard, we have not yet completed our task. It is just beginning. We, as youths, have yet to take on the complex responsibilities of upholding the righteous principles and processes of democracy before all the world. This is our test. We can go forward now with vivid memories of what we have learned here and can take on our task with confidence. Of this experience, we have only to be thankful."

We have only to be proud of Governor Wade and the 15 other Marin boys and girls who represented us in Sacramento.

Why Not WPA For Jobless?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

It is reported that the city of Denver has revived the WPA idea in connection with the administration of its funds for the unemployed. After providing work on civic improvements two days each week, there are left three days in which to check employment opportunities. The minimum wage of $1.25 an hour applies to all.

It is contended that the self respect of the applicants is maintained through working for the relief grants rather than merely driving to an office for a handout check. Marin County has countless requirements for temporary help on civic improvements and cultural activities for which no budget appropriations have been made.

I-J News Not In County Interest

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

On Jan. 31 you printed a guest editorial which you took great pride in patting yourself on the back. After reading this editorial, my feeling was that the opinions expressed therein were certainly not impaired by any knowledge of the subject.

The editorial speaks of rescuing Marin from a mess. However, what is not brought out is the fact that this "mess" was started two or three years ago and the air given by the I-J in perpetuating this mess was very substantial. Your paper lent its weight to this expensive project at a time when we did not have $300,000 for a Juvenile Hall or $500,000 to bring the County Hospital up to required state standards. This is to say nothing of the need for roads around the county.

A lot was made in this editorial of the socalled straw ballots published in the paper. As I recall, a number of people brought up this subject of a straw vote BEFORE the contract on the civic center was signed in January, 1960. The Independent-Journal apparently at that time was afraid of the vote that such a sample ballot would show.

The reporting of the Independent-Journal during this recent period could not be called reporting at all, but merely an attempt to spread panic in Marin County. To my knowledge, there was never any thought of the supervisors to stop construction indefinitely and leave a half finished building. The work stoppage was only of a temporary nature to determine what useful purpose could be made of this building in line with the county's needs.

The fact that it was not feasible to convert to a hospital is not the least bit surprising. In fact, the stated purpose of the building is an administration building and yet, looking at the long narrow floor space, any expert in the field of laying out a business operation would even question its use as an administration building.

Another point made in this editorial concerned the loss of jobs of hundreds of craftsmen. As I recall from reading your paper, the only figure that was mentioned was 125 workers. While I will admit that in the case of these 125 workers this was an extreme hardship, there must be at least 40,000 wage earners in Marin County and in the overall picture, we are not talking about a great many workers. I would also like to point out that if the economy of Marin County is such that we cannot absorb 125 workers in jobs other than public projects, then our economic status is much worse than I like to believe it is.

The editorial also speaks of unbiased news coverage. In reading this I wondered if editorially waving the "red herring" term at some of us who opposed the civic center is considered unbiased news coverage. (If you would like, I shall furnish you with the date of this editorial.)

There has never been any doubt that the I-J has a duty to report on the events in Marin County. However, I believe that you must remember that the Board of Supervisors, not your paper, was elected to govern Marin County and your attempts to spread panic and destroy confidence in the board is not in the best interests of the county.

Should Be Called 'Capital Revenge'

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

With regard to capital punishment, I have been reading various letters to the editor, pro and con, with writers quoting from the Bible to support their case and citing recent ghastly crimes against children.

The point the proponents of capital punishment are missing is that we DO have capital punishment in this state and it has NOT prevented these crimes.

Imprisonment without possibility of parole would protect us from future crimes committed by these people.

God gave us life and criminals will be judged by Him. We have the right to protect ourselves from criminals but we do not have the right to take human life.

The very term "capital punishment" is misleadingg. To punish implies inflicting pain or loss of freedom in order to teach a lesson. Punishment including death cannot teach anything. More truly, the term should be "capital revenge" or capital retributiton."

TOT SAVES AUNT

A 2-year-old girl with a liking for telephones helped save her aunt who had collapsed with a stroke.

The two were alone when the woman suffered the attack. Shortly afterwards, the little girl picked up the receiver and dialed the operator with a sobbing message that her aunt was sick.

The operator traced the message and informed the police, who administered oxygen to the stricken woman. She regained consciousnesss and was later reported in good condition.

The girl's mother said later that her daughter had often played with a toy telephone and had been allowed on occasion to dial numbers on the real phone.

The resourcefulness of this little one underscores the powers instilled in children by their Creator. If she had not been encouraged to use her surprising talent, the result might have been far different.

Praise and promote reasonable initiative in children. They will happily surprise you if you do.

"Despise not one of these little ones: For I say to you that their angels in heaven always see the face of My father."

How Can You Laugh When They Are Reaching Age 50?

NEW YORK (AP)—Help!

I am on the verge of being 50 years old.

When a glance at the calendar told me that this month I'd reach the half-century mark, at first I simply could not believe it.

Then as the inescapable certainty dawned on me that it was only too true, I felt a sense of indignation. What angered me most was seeing strangers laughing and joking as I passed them on the street.

What kind of dull clods were they? How could they smile during a month in which one of their fellow creatures—even if they did not know him—was turning 50?

Well, that's human nature for you.

This feeling of resentment was succeeded by one of numb horror. Where had the last 10 years gone? Why, wasn't it only yesterday that Father Time had pushed me, kicking and screaming, past my 40th milestone?

I had decided then that a man's 40th birthday was the worst moment in his life. Life begins at 40? I was sure that what began at 40 was second childhood—and in a way it does. It is at least another adolescence, and any adolescence is trying, even one without pimples.

And now I stand on the edge of 50, still wondering how it happened.

The puzzlement still endures, but I am no longer resentful or horrified. After all, you can't whip time.

There is also one tremendous consolation denied to many my age. The first lady I saw on earth is still alive at 73, although her hair is now almost as white as the snow that fell outside our home the stormy day she bore me back in 1911.

She knows I am a birthday fighter, and as usual she'll send me a card and a scrawled note of advice:

"Son, son, don't struggle so hard against what has to be put up with. When will you ever learn to sit loosely in the saddle of life?"

She'll also know—whatever I think of turning 50—that I am still deeply grateful for our first meeting, and every year we've shared, together or apart, since then.

A really elderly gentleman of 55 I know told me:

"MY BOY, YOU ARE just entering the true golden years. They hold priceless rewards you have never had a chance to enjoy until now."

"Tell me about those rewards," I asked.

"TOMORROW," he promised. "Right now I'm on my way to see the doctor about my arthritis. It's killing me."

Oh, well.

Never laugh at anyone reaching 50. Just keep your chin up—and it'll happen to you. If you're lucky.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

How old, inquires Cleveland's Bill Feather, is the story of a passenger in the crowded washroom of a Pullman car who picked up a toothbrush and began brushing. An indignant fellow-passenger, suspenders dangling, yanked the brush away and hollered, "Confound it, that's mine!" "Sorry," apologized the appropriator. "I thought it belonged to the railroad."

Well, it's pretty old, Bill, but it's still funny!

An inebriated gentleman found his way into a bar with three entrances. He staggered into the first door and the bartender refused to serve him. He left in a huff and came back through the second door. Refused again, he exited and tried door number three. Confronted once more by the same intractable bartender, the drunk asked indignantly, "Say, do you own every saloon in this town?"

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RANDALL GOULD

Sometimes An Officer Will Stop You Merely To Give You A Cigar

Marin County is full of the unexpected. There are times when it makes the far distant places of the earth seem mighty drab and humdrum.

For instance, there was the day when I discovered something quite amusing about the barber who was cutting my hair on Fourth Street in San Rafael.

The way this man gets a home-cooked meal from the hands of his wife is not to go home, but to go to a nearby restaurant, he confided.

The reason is that his wife cooks for the restaurant. I never would have found out anything like that in Tokyo, Calcutta or the Igorot areas of the island of Luzon.

THEN THE OTHER day while tooling along the road between Tiburon and Mill Valley I was stopped by a Marin County deputy sheriff.

It was Deputy Ed Mauberret, who had no idea of arresting me whether I deserved it or not. All he wanted to do was give me a fine Havana cigar that he felt might be good for whatever was perhaps ailing me.

This idea, by the way, I want to pass on to friends of the California Highway Patrol. "A good cigar for every regular customer" should be their motto.

In Marin County I don't mind handing out good ideas to officialdom and even giving advice when I think it's needed. But I have had to get sort of seasoned in the county before I became so bold.

IT WAS MANY months back that I took an examination for driving license, something I have been doing for years in various parts of the world from New York to Shanghai—that is, since they began requiring that you have a driving license if you want to drive.

(Of course being a senior sort of citizen, well aged in the chassis, I drove for quite a while before driving licenses were required. It was quite a thrill when cars other than Model T put the steering wheel on the left side.)

Since I thought I must by this time have learned something about how to drive, I was a little irked to find I'd been faulted by the examiner. He'd demanded that I use arm signals. Then he didn't like the way I gave them. I wasn't flunked, but I was marked down.

The memory rankled. Since flashers became legal I haven't given many arm signals—only when my mirror showed somebody behind who seemed such a poor driver that he'd better get all the notification I could give. So when I was told to signal a right turn (seldom useful if you position your car right) and a slowdown and a stop I gave a poor technical exhibition of arm signaling.

THIS RANKLED because I didn't think I need accommodate the examiner in his whim for arm signals. But it took months before I plucked up courage to say so.

Then I asked the examiner's boss, Olin Hughes. And as usual in Marin, I got a prompt, courteous reply. They ask for arm signals, said Hughes, but since the flashers are legal I could stick to them if I liked.

My advice is that when in Marin County, speak freely and keep your eyes and ears open.

People will tell you whatever you want to know as a rule, and sometimes more. Officials don't get all stuffed full of their own importance. Curiosity has killed no cats in Marin, but on the contrary has netted some good stories.

FOR INSTANCE about the time County Clerk George S. Jones decided not to have any more kids. This is an intimate kind of yarn I should leave for him to explain. But I'll tip you that it has to do with a widwife who missed the ferry from San Francisco in a time of domestic emergency; and after what next happened to Jones, I think he made a wise decision.

Even in Marin, women have no idea what men suffer to produce a family.

Vice President Will Have Large Influence On Space Program

WASHINGTON — Neither Vice President Lyndon Johnson nor Prof. Jerome B. Wiesner, the White House scientific advisor, are at all happy about the delayed take-over of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

They are quite aware that the space agency has suffered during the 11-week hiatus isnce the election. It shouldn't have been that way. They didn't want it that way. It develops that there were two complicating circumstances which painfully extended the period before the 19,000 people working for N.A.S.A. could know the future of their agency.

The circumstances are:

THAT AT LEAST eight people, whom the Administration asked to head N. A. S. A., turned it down. The post remained vacant until James E. Webb, former director of the budget and Under Secretary of State under President Truman, was finally persuaded to take the job.

That the life of N.A.S.A. itself, as an independent agency in charge of the exploration of outer space for peaceful purposes, was in doubt for a considrable period. New pressures had developed, principally from industry, to merge the military and civilian programs into a combined operation.

Until this controversy was finally and firmly settled—as it was in the end settled on the side of retaining N. A. S. A.'s independence — the search for a suitable administrator could not be effectively pressed.

BOTH DECISIONS — to keep the peaceful exploration of space under civilian control and to name Webb administrator—had the support of Vice President Johnson and Prof. Wiesner. Since the Vice President will shortly become the chairman of the space council to coordinate all the government's military and civilian space activiities, it is evident that together their voices will be dominant.

Johnson has long and strongly advocated that the non-military space programs be kept firmly and visibly in civilian hands for these reasons:

Because the whole nation and the whole economy stand to gain through pre-eminence in space technology.

Because radical new tenets of international law will have to be developed if competition in outer space is to be kept from cold war chaos.

Because there are numerous projects for space explorattion which could well be undertaken jointly by the U. S. and the Soviets—as both President Eisenhower and President Kennedy have advocated.

Because both national strength and national prestige will stem from all we do in the vast reaches of space.

ALTHOUGH HE IS an able, experienced, and energetic administrator, Webb will bring no scientific background to the leadership of the space agency.

This fact will inevitably enlarge the influence—and impact—which Johnson will exert on the program from his vantage point as chairman of the coordinating space council.

If Johnson and Prof. Wiesner, as the President's science advisor, work closely together, it will mean, I should think, that together they will shape the critical decisions.

Today is Wednesday, Feb. 8, the 39th day of the year with 326 more in 1961.

The moon is in its last quarter.

The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Mercury.

On this day in history:

In 1587, Mary, Queen of Scots, was beheaded.

In 1910, the Boy Scouts of America was incorporated in the District of Columbia.

In 1935, delegates to a constitutional convention in the the Philippine Islands adopted the constitution of the Commonwealth of the Philippines.

In 1940, every tenth person was shot in two villages near Warsaw, Poland, in reprisals for the deaths of two German soldiers.

In 1955, Soviet Premier Malenkov resigned as chief of state.

A thought for today: American statesman Henry Adams said: "Simplicity is the most deceitful mistress that ever betrayed man."

May I present my friend "Jerry"? He's just 12 months old.

He took his first independent steps last week. Now he spends every minute lurching through with the widest, most triumplant smile you ever saw.

Jerry can use four words: "Mamamama" means mother. "Dog, dog" means the family pooch. "Da" means daddy. And "umumumum" means any sort of tasty food.

Jerry has a big appetite. He prefers to put his hands into the food, and stuff it into his mouth. His mother scolds him, and he looks abashed. But weren't fingers invented before forks? He drinks more milk than the rest of the family combined. He needs it and handles his mug quite well.

Jerry is curious. I watched him investigate a card table. He couldn't figure out how it worked, but he tried. A ball on the floor, a spool on the table, the hanging tassel of a window drape, everything must be investigated.

Jerry tries to obey. Often he doesn't understand what is wanted. He has a temper, and sometimes lashes out defiantly. But most of the time he tries to do what his mama wants. I saw him walk to the foot of the stairs. He knows he's not allowed to climb them. He patted the bottom step, shook his head, grinned, and buzzed away. He picked up an ash tray. He held it just an instand, then put it down and frowned fiercely. Good little Jerry, he knows!

Do you have a 12-month-old baby? Then love him, enjoy every minute. This precious period doesn't last long.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) Is it true that babies try to obey their parents? When does real rebellion appear?"

R.L.

(A) Babies who have received the right combination of love and attention try to please their parents. They make mistakes, but their motives are good. Real rebellion usually appears during the second year.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Bachelor Finds Getting Aid Hard

BALTIMORE (AP)—It was during the busy noon-hour rush that a young bachelor stood naked on his North Charles Street roof and yelled at passers-by.

He was fresh from a shower and wearing nothing but house slippers when he accidentally locked himself out of his top-floor apartment and onto a fire-escape landing which led only to the roof.

Despite his shouts "Police! Somebody call the police, you complacent oafs!"—it was one hour and 20 minutes before someone came along and noticed him. It was the building maintenance man who recognized the bachelor, shook his head in resignation and effected a rescue.

The Gas Meter Mewed Like Cat

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP)—The Ralph Gifford family thought a kitten was meowing in the furnace.

Firemen were called. They heard the noise, too, but couldn't find any trapped cat. They suggested tearing out part of the brick chimney for a better look.

The family started to call a wrecking crew. Then someone noticed the natural gas meter near the furnace. The meter was squeaking — just like a kitten.
